Berard filed a plea of not guilty and his case will be tried on Monday.

GOV. EUGENE N. FOSS

The Merrimack Valley Waterways board, Judge Charles G. Payne of Haverhill, chairman; Frederick N. Wales of Boston, clerk; Andrew B. Sullivan, president of the Lawrence board of trade; Lewis R. Hovey, Haverhill, and Assistant Clerk Richard J. McCormick of Haverhill, called at Mayor O'Donnell's office at city hall this forenoon for the purpose of perfecting plans for a meeting here and also, they said, to get better acquainted with Lowell's chief executive. The board will hold a meeting in this city Sept. 24. The meeting will be held in the municipal council chamber at 7:30 p. m. The board went from here to Newburyport along the river for the benefit of one of the members who is not too familiar with the Merrimack.

Congressman Butler Ames was one of the first to be appointed to the Merrimack Valley water board by Gov. Foss, but the congressman declined to serve on the ground that he did not have the time to spare for further public service and Mr. Hovey of Haverhill was appointed in his stead. The board is allowed $10,000 for expenses in preparing its report which must be submitted on or before Feb. 1. The board has already held three meetings.

Large Attendance at Normal School
A Number of Out-of-Town Pupils Registered

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

With an attendance that equaled, if it did not surpass, that of last year's opening, the normal school of this city opened yesterday for the fall term.

The class rolls contain the names of pupils from all the surrounding towns and cities and of all these Lowell naturally contributes the greatest number. The list is as follows for the senior class: Lowell, 25; Lawrence, 24; Haverhill, 2; Methuen, 2; Wilmington, 2; Graniteville, 2; Ballardsville, 2; and North Andover, Woburn, Dracut, Bradford, West Somerville, Hudson, N. H., Manchester, Somerville, Wamecet, Lexington and North Chelmsford, each send one.

For the Juniors, Lowell and Lawrence, 19 each; Haverhill and Woburn, 5 each; North Andover 4; Cambridge, Westford and Bradford, 2 each; Dracut, Burlington, Billerica, East Billerica, Winchester, Chelmsford, Tyngsboro, North Wilmington, Methuen and West Medford, one apiece.

This makes the number of this year's students about the same as that of last year but as yet the enrollment is not complete for there are many students who are taking up special studies and do not return until three or four weeks after the beginning of the fall term. These for the most part are pupils who are taking a post graduate course or fitting themselves for the positions in the more advanced schools. There are also several of the regular students who have not as yet returned to their classes. When all these return, it is quite probable that this year's enrollment will be greater than that of last year.

There have been no changes in the faculty for the coming term and none are expected. There has, however, been a new feature added to the curriculum, a special course for those who desire to become fitted for the positions as supervisors of music or department teachers of music. This newly added branch is a very thorough one and became exceedingly popular at the very outset. It will include an insight into harmony; the theory of music, and vocal and instrumental lessons. Among the other special features which were included in the list of branches last year is a course in drawing combined with the study of applied arts and this claims the attention of a large number of pupils.

Classes at the state normal school begin at 9:30 in the morning and close for the noon recess at 11:30. The afternoon session opens at 1 o'clock and lasts until four.

THE NASHUA FAIR

Had Many Attractions Yesterday Including Aeroplane Flight and Balloon Ascension

There will be an added attraction of three classes of horse racing in connection with the regularly scheduled events at the Nashua fair grounds tomorrow afternoon.

In spite of the fact that there had been carded for tomorrow features and attractions which could not help but draw a banner crowd to the fair, those in charge decided that it would be round to their credit to have something not on the program for the last day, and they therefore opened negotiations with the horsemen for the races. Aviator Alwood was the chief attraction yesterday. He gave an exhibition flight at 4 o'clock, although his machine was not working well. Yesterday was children's day and there were about 3000 present to witness the balloon ascension and races.

From Kanawha District Plan a Demonstration in the Streets of Charleston, West Virginia, Today

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Three thousand miners of that part of the Kanawha coal district not under martial law are coming to the state house in Charleston today to make a demonstration against the guard system in behalf of the men who are striking. They will march through the streets of Charleston, led by "Mother" Jones.

"Martial law is all right, but what after martial law?" is the legend to be displayed on a banner in the parade. Gov. Glasscock will be urged to come out and answer that question. "Mother" Jones will make a direct appeal to Glasscock.

The guard system will come back as soon as the soldiers are withdrawn, said "Mother" Jones. "Months ago Gov. Glasscock could have settled all difficulties by declaring that there shall be no guards. He did nothing at all, now the state and the miners are paying heavily."

Court-martial is working as quickly as possible. In two days the military judges have tried 15 men. The verdicts were sealed and sent to Gov. Glasscock for approval. The court can fix any penalty within its discretion.

COMMISSIONER WALDO TESTIFIED

Denied That He Ordered Disorderly Houses Should Not Be Raided

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Rhinelander Waldo, New York's commissioner of police, was the first witness called to the stand today at the departmental trial of Cornelius G. Hayes, the deposed police inspector, charged with making false statements concerning the commissioner, Douglas I. Mackey, first deputy commissioner presiding, having overruled the contention of Hayes' lawyer, that he was incompetent to preside because he had been subpoenaed as a witness.

Commissioner Waldo testified that he called before him on Aug. 23 the various inspectors to ascertain which one of them, if any, had given an anonymous interview, published that day, to the effect that orders had been given by him (Waldo) that no disorderly houses should be raided without his instruction.

"Inspector Hayes then told me that he understood his orders were not to raid disorderly houses without specific instructions from me," Waldo continued.

"Had you ever given him such orders?" asked Terence Farley, assistant corporation counsel representing the department.

"No, I gave him no orders other than the general instructions to observe peace and good order and to enforce all the laws. The inspector was personally responsible for the enforcement of the laws, including the excise laws and those against gambling in his district and to aid him and other inspectors we maintained a special squad of detectives."

"Did you ever instruct Hayes to refrain from obtaining evidence against disorderly houses?" Farley asked.

"He was never given any instructions of that kind in any form whatsoever," Waldo replied. This ended the direct examination and Thomas Thacher, counsel for Hayes, began the cross examination by asking if Waldo had not made a record for eliminating graft in the fire department.

COMMISSIONER WALDO HAD TO FACE A SEVERE CROSS-EXAM-INATION TODAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The relationship between Mayor Gaynor and the New York police department and his views and attitude on the city's so-called vice and excise problems and the extent to which the department followed the mayor's public declarations of his attitude, formed the basis of a relentless cross examination today of Police Commissioner Waldo in the trial of Cornelius G. Hayes, an inspector, suspended on charges of making false statements reflecting on the commissioner. For over an hour, Thomas Thacher, Hayes' counsel, sought to read into the record, the mayor's speeches and utterances on the vice problem. Thacher in his efforts by Terence Farley, assistant corporation counsel, appearing for the city, the lawyer finally gained recognition from the trial commissioner, Douglas I. Mackey, by his declaration: "I am merely trying to prove that Mayor Gaynor's policy was one under which the social evil was recognized as an unconquerable problem which had to be endured but that the evil had to present a front of outward decency, that in the failure of Hayes to raid disorderly houses he was merely reflecting this policy and that any orders issued to him by Waldo were directly an invasion of that policy."

"That has nothing to do with the case," replied Farley.

"It has everything to do with showing the probabilities bearing upon this issue—whether Waldo is telling the truth or whether Hayes is telling the truth when he says he was ordered not to raid disorderly houses without instructions from the commissioner."

Mr. Thacher was then permitted to proceed with his cross-examination along the lines he desired.

"Does not Mayor Gaynor direct your policy toward vice?" he asked Waldo.

"He does not," snapped the commissioner.

"Have you ever observed the mayor's views on the excise question?"

"The mayor's views," Waldo replied, "were given to the police in general order number 17 in 1910. That order is still in force."

"Don't you know the mayor's views on vice are that we have to suffer this evil?"

"I do not know anything about the mayor's views except what he told me; he never told me anything like that."

"Have you ever read his public speeches on the subject?"

"Not that I recall."

"Has Gaynor ever instructed you how to deal with disorderly houses?"

"He has never given me any instructions on that subject."

"You knew, didn't you, that disorderly houses had flourished for six months in Hayes' district, that these houses were operating every day and that they were not being raided?"

"Yes, I knew it. I knew that disorderly houses had been flourishing in that district for a year. But I presumed that Hayes was making every effort he could to close them."

Schaefer Knocked Out
VALLEJO, Cal., Sept. 6.—Frank Moran of Pittsburg knocked out Sallor Schaefer, champion of the Pacific coast fleet and "White Hope," after two and a half rounds of fighting here last night. In the first round he made a good showing but weakened in the second and when the third round was half over Moran with a right swing sent the navy man to the floor for the count.

Lieut. Steger Killed
MUNICH, Bavaria, Sept. 6.—Lieut. Steger, a German military aviator was killed here during a flight. He had ascended in his biplane to make a report of the position of the opposing force in the local maneuvers. The weather was very stormy and when his machine had reached a height of 500 feet it suddenly buckled and crashed to the earth. Steger was a novice in aviation having obtained his aviator's certificate only three weeks ago.

MOOSE CARNIVAL

Several Thousand People Enjoyed the Attractions Yesterday Afternoon and Last Night

Yesterday was a big day at the Moose carnival at Washington park and several thousand people enjoyed themselves during the afternoon and evening. The crowd in the afternoon was made up principally of women and children. The little ones, especially, had a good time on the ocean wave and merry-go-round.

There is but one more day of the carnival and those who have not visited the grounds should do so either today or tomorrow for the free attractions alone are of a very high order. Harry Six, the high diver whose sensational dives into a shallow tank of water are one of the features of the carnival, is a professional swimmer of more than ordinary ability. It was he who swam from the Battery at the lower end of Manhattan, to St. George Island, Long Island, years ago, and who also accomplished the feat of swimming from London bridge to Tilbury fort on the river Thames, in England, last summer. Six is the holder of a number of medals and other trophies, and is also the owner of the Crown Island diving club, one of the most popular attractions on the carnival midway. The girls include several clever swimmers and divers, and do some unusual and interesting stunts in the water.

The "queen of the carnival" contest, which ends on Saturday evening, is becoming more interesting with each count of ballots, and the excitement among the different candidates and their friends is at fever heat. There was a slight error in the count published yesterday, but this has been rectified, and the present count shows: Miss Beatrice Lavigne still ahead with 2154 votes to her credit; Miss Sadie McKenna following closely with 2157, while Miss Annie Adams is a close third with 2029 votes. The other nominees are: Miss Elizabeth Thompson, 1542; Miss Sadie Goldman, 1510; Miss Alice Bailey, 1745; Miss Anna Murphy, 1462; Miss Rose Ducharme, 1275; Miss Grace A. Pickering, 1255; Miss Eva Warrick, 1270; Miss Bert C. Hunter, 1174; Miss Rose C. Cuthbert, 1001; Miss Josephine E. Leach, 886; Miss Alice Denault, 515.

The vote will again be counted this evening, the boxes remaining at the stations until noon tomorrow, after which all votes must be sent to the voting station at the carnival grounds. The last ballot will open at 5 P. M. Saturday evening, when the prize will be awarded.

SUE FOR $70,000

Girl and Her Father Enter Action
Against Auto Company as Result of
Accident

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Damages aggregating $70,000 are asked by Miss Laura Worth, a woman, and her father, Harry Worth, in suits brought in the superior court yesterday against the Boston Motor company and National S. H. Saunders of Taunton, named as co-defendants. The suits are a result of injuries sustained by Miss Worth when she was struck by an automobile on Belvidere street in the Back Bay, Nov. 2, 1911. Her hip is alleged to have been broken.

Miss Worth asks $25,000 of each defendant, and her father asks $10,000 from each for the loss of his daughter's services and medical expenses incurred.

In another suit brought in the superior court yesterday, Jane McNamara asks $5000 for injuries due to falling down a flight of stairs at 77 Evans street, Boston. The suit is brought against the owner, Josephine Hill, the plaintiff alleging that the stairs were not properly lighted.

He Passed Away While Speaking at Reunion of 24th Wisconsin Volunteers

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 6.—Lieut. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, U. S. A., retired, dropped dead while speaking at the last reunion of the 24th Wisconsin Volunteers known as the "Chamber of Commerce" regiment, last night.

When, on June 2, 1909, Lieut. Gen. Arthur MacArthur was retired from his command in the United States army, he brought to an end a service

Demonstration by Crowd of 300 on Arrival of Strike Breaking Forces in that City

HAVERHILL, Sept. 6.—Reinforcements were ordered out last night for the police who are guarding the storehouse of the Appleton Counter company, off Railroad avenue, in Bradford, where counter workers have been out for the last two weeks.

Yesterday afternoon a crowd of 250 strike-breakers from Philadelphia arrived and were escorted by police from the Haverhill Bridge station to the factory. Last night a force of eight policemen was on duty about the factory and shortly after dusk a crowd of 300 people, mostly foreigners, gathered in Railroad avenue.

About 8 o'clock the crowd about the place began shouting at the strike-breakers and the policemen and throwing stones. Patrolman Kelleher was struck in the breast by a large stone. He was the only one who was hit.

Word was telephoned to the police station and Capt. Hill ordered eight more policemen on duty, specials being detailed to cover the beat of the regulars last night.

The Appleton company employs about 60 persons, and of this number 40 are on strike for a 54-hour week and a 25 per cent increase in wages. The strikers are affiliated with the I. W. O. and the firm refuses to recognize the union or grant the demands.

It is known that the firm has contracted for more strike-breakers and 50 are expected to arrive today. The strike-breakers are quartered in a large storehouse near the factory, provision having been made to keep them there indefinitely.

It is feared that the importation of the strike-breakers may cause more trouble, and the officials have arranged for a large force of patrolmen to remain on duty in that vicinity until the strike is over.

We Have More Than Doubled the Business

We ever did at this time of the year in all the twenty-two years we have been in the furniture business. Of course people are sure of finding nothing but the latest patterns and designs in all our Furniture and Carpets, as we sold out our old stock and start in the new store with a brand new stock. And having no rent to pay, we can and do sell cheaper; and that is drawing the crowd to 15 Hurd street, 100 feet from Central street, (with apology to Kennedy.) It pays to walk.

was there he got his education in the public schools and under private tutors. The Civil war broke out when he was 16, and when a year older, in 1862, he entered the Federal Army as adjutant in the 24th Wisconsin Infantry, with rank of 1st Lieutenant. His first application had been turned down, but unofficial though valuable work as drill-master won him his first commission Aug. 4.

Early in the Heat of Battle

At first the other officers were disposed to make fun of him for his boyish appearance and gentle voice, but the first taste of war seemed to age him and make him a mature man as well as a brave one.

At the battle of Missionary Ridge, Nov. 25, 1862, he showed his stuff by setting the regimental colors at a critical moment of the fight and planting them on the captured works on the crest of the ridge. For this deed he was awarded, June 30, 1869, the rare congressional medal of honor.

Shortly after this, Jan. 25, 1864, he was made major and then conspicuous bravery at the battles of Perryville, Ky., Stone River and Dandridge, Tenn., as well as at Missionary Ridge, and later in the battle of Franklin and the Atlanta campaign brought him, March 12, 1865, the double brevet of lieutenant colonel and colonel.

Other battles in which he had an active part were Pease, Adairville, New Hope Church, Keweenaw Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, Jonesboro, Lovejoy's Station and Atlanta, all in the Western campaign. He was wounded once at Keweenaw Mountain and again at Franklin, but in neither case seriously.

Joins the Regular Army

He was honorably discharged June 10, 1865, but his three years of war had only given him a taste for soldiering and he was back in the army Feb. 23, 1866, he was back as 1st Lieutenant in the 11th Infantry, U. S. A.

Three months later he was promoted to captain and in 1870 he was attached to the 15th Infantry, with whom he stayed for about 20 years, fighting Indians and serving in western posts. In 1890 he was given the rank of major and made assistant adjutant general and in 1891 his rank was advanced to lieutenant colonel.

At the outbreak of the Spanish war, however, he went back to the volunteer troops with a commission of brigadier general, May 27, 1898. Shortly afterward he was ordered to report to Gen. Merritt at Manila, and in the capture of that city he commanded a brigade.

On Aug. 13 he was made a major general of volunteers and when Gen. Oiler succeeded Gen. Merritt he was given command of the first division. This was the beginning of the career in the Philippines that gave him his greatest fame as a soldier.

His Work in the Philippines

His famous campaign of the Dagupan & Manila railroad has become a classic in military history.

The state volunteers were with him, and he pushed his way quickly to San Fernando, through the bitter battles at Calocan, Matalon, Beave and Culmpan.

At San Fernando he made his base of supplies, but led to cease operations because of the return home of the many state volunteers and the substitution of few regulars.

Through the terrible siege of sickened and inactive MacArthur held his own. The insurgent army made it so hot for him at San Fernando that he was forced to throw the 12th Infantry into Angeles—a point farther north on the railroad.

For two months while MacArthur waited for reinforcements this regiment of 131 Canby's heroes held at bay an army corps under Aguinaldo and Alacran, and saved the division from retreat and the discomfort of defeat.

Then the National volunteers came and the advance along the railroad continued—through the fights at Malabacat, Damban, Capas, Tarlac and Pampun—MacArthur driving before him the horde into the Cagayan de Iloilo. He was then the fighting of Wabaton and Lawton's division, but the fox got away and Oiler went home.

Chat on the Winter Styles

A recognized authority on modes has this to say concerning the styles of the fall and autumn seasons:

"Tailored skirts will be wider," she declares, "although the fact will not be made aggressively patent, and they will also be marked by an extreme simplicity, with a leaning toward unadorned effects. The chief decorative detail will be the strap or overlapped seams, flat fittings also playing a part, chiefly concentrated at the back. A case in point has a tablier, ostensibly buttoned on to these plaits, while in another skirt after forming a narrow, folded, front panel is laid in flat-plaited plaits all round, these meeting at a center back and so suggesting an inverted box-plait."

"So far," continues the same authority, "I have not observed any change coming about in the length of the coats, but a novel feature promised on some of the sketches is a Watteau plait at the back extending from the neck to the end of the coat. The Robespierre collar is a picturesque note, and also the jehu cape. The latter is a long time favorite attribute of the picture wrap, for some while held in vogue. As shall be evident, as to appearance, and I for one shall not be at all displeased to see it figuring on short coats. The director period, it will be remembered, boasted something of the kind, surmounted by an up and down collar."

For the Cook

Chicken fat is far better than butter to use in making a white sauce when creaming chicken.

Cress minced as fine as possible and mixed with mayonnaise makes a delicious sandwich.

Use hot milk instead of cold when mashing potatoes and they will be fluffier.

Dice the turnips before cooking, then boil in salted water and serve with a cream sauce. If there are a few peas in the refrigerator add these to the cream sauce; it makes the dish very attractive.

Candied cherries or candied violets or rose leaves should find a place on every emergency shelf. Sprinkled over the whipped cream that is served with rounds of plain cake they make a delightful dessert. The cavity of a stewed peach or pear filled with cream or a tiny mold of blancmange covered with whipped cream and sprinkled with the candied fruit is also a dainty sweet easily prepared.

BADEN WON THE $10,000 STAKE

BADEN WINNER OF $10,000 STAKE

The Trotting Battle Was One of the Greatest Ever Staged at Charter Oak Park

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 6.—In one of the greatest trotting battles ever staged at Charter Oak park, the brown stallion Baden yesterday afternoon won the classic Charter Oak $10,000 stake for 214 trotters. For five heats the classy field battled before the winner was decided, the bay mare, Esther W., who conquered Baden last week in the Massachusetts stake at Readville, winning two heats and losing the final on account of a break at the half.

The crowd which saw the race was the largest of the week and they saw one of the best programs which has been staged on the grand circuit this season. The three events other than the big stake being contested, especially the event for amateur drivers, which had a small field, but rivaled the Charter Oak in time and the heroic manner in which the two leading horses fought it out.

The Wanderer drew the pole in the Charter Oak, with Bergen second, and Starter Walker had little trouble in getting them away. Esther W. breaking soon after the start. The Wanderer and Castle Dome were the first to show, but Baden moved to the front at the half and the balance of the way had things his own way, the Cincinnati mare, Ruth McGregor, rushing up very fast at the finish and getting the place. The second heat found Baden in front all the way. Esther W. trotted very fast around the upper turn, but could not get through in time. Ruth McGregor again landing the place, with Esther W. third.

Baden broke going away in the third heat and fell back, while Esther W. was on a trot and a comfortable third up the backstretch. Annie Kohl leading. Cox moved Esther to the front, rounding the upper turn, and Baden, with a great spurt, came through on the inside, but broke at the sevenths, which spoiled his chances. Esther W. beating Annie Kohl in a driving finish in 2:05 3/4, a new record for the bay mare.

When she went out, trotted all the way and beat Baden the third heat in 2:06 1/2. It looked that Walter Cox had the big race as good as won. In the final heat Esther W. and Baden went away together and the clip was fast. Rodney stepping Baden fast and showing in front passing the half, at which point the mare left her feet in a tangled break which was fatal to her chances.

When she recovered she was far in the rear of the field, but it was the last chance and Cox took it, teaming her for his life. In a burst of speed such as seldom seen on a race track the mare took up the long, stern chase and finally won the stake. The finish was a hard one, but the long drive had told on the mare, and she hung in the last few strides, Baden beating her a neck in 2:10.

This is the second $10,000 stake for Baden this season, he having also won three of $5,000, and leads all of the money winners by a wide margin.

The 220 trot, with amateur drivers, was staged to be a duel between Zarrine and Dersh Medium, and such it proved. The former led in the early part of both the first and second heats, but Dersh Medium beat her in the third heat. The latter drove in 2:07 1/2, a new record for the 1-year-old from Colorado. Dersh was on a trot all the way in the fourth and beat Zarrine in a close finish.

Two-Year-Olds Go Fast

The race for 2-year-old trotters was a two-horse affair between Axworthy and Fenestr, the former just losing the Detroit filly out in each heat. The 2-year-olds were a classy bunch, the event going to Dillen Axworthy in time nearly as fast as the 1-year-olds showed. Nathan Axworthy was a very comfortable second each time.

The weather was threatening during the afternoon, and the last heats of the Charter Oak and 220 trot were raced in a drizzling rain. Cox, Dodge and Carpenter were fined $50 each in the Charter Oak stake for scoring ahead of the pole horse.

Charter Oak, 214 trot, purse $10,000.

MITCHELL, THE Tailor
24 CENTRAL STREET, LOWELL

Tailors doing $35 and $40 Overcoat business always feel that they are giving customers exceptional values when they give them goods from the Rockville Mills of Rockville, Conn., at regular prices.

Usually an additional charge of $5.00 is made for this class of goods.

In my educational campaign I want to convince the doubtful, the skeptical, the I-don't-see-how-they-do-it fellow, that I carry the very top notchers of standard American woolen makers—absolutely the best we know how to weave.

The mere announcement that I shall take orders FRIDAY and SATURDAY for ROCKVILLE OVERCOATINGS and JOHNSON'S MELTONS and KERSEYS at my popular low prices, ought to bring big response from discerning people—who like new things when they see them at prices within their means.

MAN WAS FATALLY INJURED

John P. Donnelly of Hudson, N. H., Run Over by Electric Car on Nashua Road

A fatal accident occurred on the fore he reached the hospital. The car was in charge of Conductor company on the Nashua road last night, when John P. Donnelly of Hudson, N. H., who was lying across the tracks, was struck and almost instantly killed by an electric car. The man, who was 35 years old, was a resident of Hudson, N. H., and was traveling to Lowell. He was struck by the car at the intersection of the Nashua road and the railroad tracks, near the corner of the accident just before reaching that place there is a slight curve in the track which brought the car close upon Donnelly before the searchlight revealed his presence. As the headlight swept down the track, however, the prostrate body of a man was seen with a little yellow dog seated close beside it. The motorman threw off the power and applied the reverse, but the distance was too short to prevent striking the body, which went beneath the tender and brought up against the life guard.

Word of the accident was immediately sent to Lakeview and Park Manager John J. Cody was soon on the scene in a special car taking along with him the lifting apparatus which is kept at Lakeview. When he arrived, however, the body had been extricated from its position and Dr. Joseph E. Lamoureux who happened to be in the vicinity was giving the injured man first aid. Donnelly was placed aboard the special car and hurried to the square, where the ambulance was waiting, but before the wagon reached St. John's hospital, Donnelly passed away. The injuries consisted of a fractured leg, and wounds in the head and thigh. The body was removed to the funeral parlor of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. Deceased is survived by a widow and five children, a mother, Mrs. Johanna Donnelly, a brother and three sisters, all of Hudson, N. H.

SOX WIN ANOTHER FROM SENATORS

By the Score of 4 to 3—Speaker Gets 3 Hits—Wood Opposes Johnson Today

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—The Red Sox, by defeating Washington 4 to 3 yesterday, widened their lead to 14½ games and also went into the lead in the series between the two clubs. Up to yesterday Washington was the only club against whom Boston had not won a majority of its games but the series now stands nine to eight in favor of Boston.

Yesterday's game, although locally played was interesting. Boston's wild base running cost several runs but Speaker's fumble and Carrigan's punting helped Washington to its first run. ## TOOK DOSE OF CARBOLIC ACID

Body of Dr. Willard C. Crocker
Was Found in the Woods
at Foxboro

FOXBORO, Sept. 6.—The body of Dr. Willard C. Crocker, who had been missing since Tuesday morning, was found about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the woods on the shore of Neponset reservoir.

Death was caused by a dose of carbolic acid, self-administered. A drained cup was by his side and also an empty two-ounce vial.

The body was found by a member of a posse that went out yesterday afternoon in response to a fire alarm.

The body was found by a member of a posse that went out yesterday afternoon in response to a fire alarm.

Medical Examiner F. A. Briggs viewed the body and an undertaker took charge of it.

Dr. Crocker, who had been a resident of this town for many years, returned Sunday from Hyannis, his old home, where he passed the greater part of the summer. On Monday he greeted many friends about town and appeared to be in a happy mood. He stopped at his brother's house. About 9 o'clock Tuesday morning he visited his room to change a straw hat for a felt one.

the day being lowly, and left the house without announcing that he intended going away. As he had always left word with relatives when he planned to be absent, fears began to form Tuesday night on his failure to put in an appearance.

All of Wednesday, his brother, Dr. B. P. Crocker, assisted by Chief of Police White and Constable Cody, made a tour of the town, trying to get trace of the missing man. Yesterday forenoon they learned that about 10:30 Tuesday morning, Mrs. Henry R. Morrill saw Dr. Crocker pass her home, going toward the reservoir. Shortly afterward Assessor Fred H. Richards said he saw the doctor in the vicinity of the reservoir Wednesday morning. The woods about the reservoir Wednesday were searched until 4 yesterday afternoon, when the selection, relatives and Chief White concluded that Dr. Crocker, dead or alive, must be near or in the lake. At 1:30 box 32 sounded and 50 men constituted the posse that was conveyed to the reservoir in barges. Amos Brigham, of the fire company soon discovered the body at the water's edge. The department recall was then sounded.

Dr. Crocker had removed his coat, the day being lowly, and left the house without announcing that he intended going away. As he had always left word with relatives when he planned to be absent, fears began to form Tuesday night on his failure to put in an appearance.

John Philip Sousa, Greatest Bandmaster, Finds Recreation in Tuxedo Tobacco.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA
Composer and Bandmaster.

"Tuxedo gives an absolutely satisfying smoke; fragrant, mild and pleasant"

There is hardly an intelligent person living who has not heard of the great Sousa. There is hardly a home possessing a piano where his stirring marches are not played. This year Sousa's band reaches its majority—the age of twenty-one; and this year, too, the famous composer has found a new recreation. That is pipe smoking.

"Formerly," said the great musician, "I smoked nothing but cigars. Only recently a friend introduced me to Tuxedo tobacco. I tried it. And now I often hesitate between a cigar and my pipe. Tuxedo gives an absolutely satisfying smoke; it is fragrant, mild and pleasant. It has the quality of a fine cigar. A pipe of it affords absolute rest."

Mr. Sousa is unique among the musicians of the world, in that he has taken a band organization and raised it to an orchestral standing. The world over, his famous band is taken as a model, not only for bands, but for famous orchestras as well. Mr. Sousa's appeal to the public may be explained by the sympathy of the great master with the public. The highest priced of conductors, his greatest pleasure nevertheless is in affording pleasure to the people. His music especially expresses the spirit of America—the vim, and zest, and "go" of the American spirit.

Mr. Sousa is one of hundreds—yes, thousands—of the forceful, virile leaders of American thought who unhesitatingly endorse Tuxedo tobacco. Dr. Madison C. Peters, Rex Beach, Lew Fields, and many, many others are in the notable list.

Mr. Sousa says: "I wonder that more men do not smoke pipes. For the great mass of American men, a pipeful of Tuxedo is a wholesome pleasure. Anything that makes for the comfort of the people interests me, so I can recommend Tuxedo."

vest and hat and laid them carefully by his side. Seated on a stump he took the fatal dose and fell backward into a shallow pool of water. Medical Examiner Briggs was of the opinion that the man's death took place Wednesday.

His watch and other valuables were in his clothing undisturbed. Among his letters was a parting note to his brother which in substance stated, it is said, that the only relief from his suffering was death. It is said the doctor had been providing for some time, but it was thought that a summer at the shore would prove beneficial to him.

GREAT MEETING

Held in Lyon Street School in Interest of the Candidacy of Humphrey O'Sullivan

The biggest early season meeting in the history of ward four, and perhaps in the history of any other ward in the city, was held in the Lyon street school last night, but it was a Humphrey O'Sullivan meeting and that accounted for the success of it. The meeting was called for the purpose of perfecting a ward organization, but it took on the proportions of an old time rally. There were about 200 present and the evening's humidity did not dampen either the ardor or enthusiasm of the crowd. It was a very successful meeting and everybody concerned was pleased with every feature of it. The ward organization was perfected with Hon. James E. Casey as chairman and John W. Sharkey, secretary. There were speeches by Mr. O'Sullivan, Mr. Casey and Major Robert J. Crowley. The meeting adjourned to the call of the chair. A meeting for the purpose of perfecting an organization in ward five to further the candidacy of Humphrey O'Sullivan for congress will be held in the Fayette street school this evening at 8 o'clock, and it should be a repetition of last night's meeting at the Lyon street school.

Lowell Textile School

The Lowell Textile school will open September 24 and Principal Charles H. Eames says the outlook for the year is good. "We will hold our entrance examinations next Tuesday and Wednesday," he said, "and it will be impossible for me to make any very definite statement at this time. All I can say is that everything looks very favorable and I feel that we are going to have a big school this year."

PROTEST AGAINST CLANCY'S STABLE

Neighbors Object to it and State Their Reasons to Board of Health—Hearing Held

John B. Clancy did not attend the hearing before the board of health last night, though he had said he would not put in an appearance. John B. Clancy, who owns a stable on the corner of Floyd street and his neighbors object to it, they claim that the building as it is at present is a nuisance and they have said all kinds of uncomplimentary things about it. John W. McKenna appeared as counsel for Mr. Clancy and the board took the matter under advisement.

The hearing occurred a few minutes after 8 o'clock and Mr. Clancy's neighbors were there loaded with remonstrances. John Clancy and his neighbors with several of them and allowed that anybody with half an eye could see that the place was a nuisance.

Richardson A. Sheehan, the first remonstrator to be heard, said that he was opposed to the building of a barn so near the street. He said that the place is a nuisance and that there are loads of boxes and other refuse in a pile nearby.

Mr. Clancy said he had a stable on the place long before Mr. Sheehan owned property there and had had it there for 20 years. Mr. Sheehan said that if John B. Clancy had a stable there it was an inevitable one. He thought John had been treating his mind on fanciful notions.

Patrick McGuire, the second remonstrator, said he objected to the stable, whereon Mr. Clancy insisted that Mr. McGuire should be the one to remove the stable. He said that property which McGuire wanted to buy, "You can see the stable on the corner," in this case," said Mr. Clancy, in his tone.

Owen McKenna didn't say Clancy's barn was a nuisance, but he did say that he had heard noises there during the past three weeks. He said that he was the building was inhabited by ducks and hens and later it was used as a club room. Mr. McKenna said that Mary McKenna had asked him to stop the petition remonstrating against Mr. Clancy's occupancy of his property on a stable there. Mr. Clancy said under influence had been brought to bear on Mr. McKenna by Mary McKenna and he thought the board should allow that his point was well taken.

Patrick McGuire said the stable would be an unmitigated nuisance. He asked the board to view the premises and he allowed that they would be enough to convince them that a stable

YOUNG MEN FINED

FOR TRESPASSING ON LAND ON CUSHING STREET

Two Youths in Court for Breaking Into Store and Stealing Goods to the Value of Four Cents

Six young men, Frank Coughlin, Edward Coughlin, James Poole, John Purcell, Joseph Lake and James Curville, the latter the one-legged man, were all arrested by Patrolman Ganley charged with trespassing on the land of Elvin W. Lovejoy in Cushing street. The two Coughlin boys were represented by Attorney John J. McClure and they entered a plea of not guilty and the others all pleaded guilty.

The superintendent of the firm was the first witness called and he said that the land in question on which is situated a sort of storehouse was being used by this gang as a resort and it was nothing more than a common nuisance. He further stated that he had machinery stored in the building and the latter was being damaged by the crowd of boys who made that place their rendezvous. He also said there was a notice of "trespassing forbidden" on the building.

Patrolman Ganley testified that on Saturday afternoon last all the defendants were on the land and as much as they ran away at his approach he arrested them later.

John Purcell, one of the defendants, when called to testify, said he was not around the place on the Saturday in question and furthermore he said he never associated with this crowd. Curville when called to the witness stand said he was in Cushing street last Saturday but was about 20 feet from Lovejoy's land.

Frank Coughlin stated that he went to the Bigelow Carpet Co.'s outlet at Nantasket beach last Saturday, while his younger brother admitted being near the premises when the officer came around. Lake said he went to the baseball game Saturday afternoon and returned home at about 6:30 o'clock, while Poole said he went through the land every day in order to get to his work, as he lives on the premises.

After hearing the evidence, Judge Fairbank found Frank Coughlin, John Purcell and Joseph Lake not guilty and ordered them discharged. Edward Coughlin and James Poole were assessed $10 each and were given a month to pay the fine, while Curville, who was on a probation term for larceny, was surrendered by the probation officer. His case of trespassing was placed on file, while for larceny he was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory. He appealed and was held in the sum of $200.

Sunday there will be the usual morning service and communion, and another service will take place in the evening. All the Swedish people of Lutheran faith, together with others, are invited to be present at the opening of the church.

The Swedish Lutheran society was founded in the year 1879 at a meeting held in an old stone house on Whipple street for this purpose. In spite of many difficulties, the society increased in numbers, but the church in which they were to hold their worship was not constructed until the year 1884. At that time it had a total membership of 81 and at present the enrollment contains 406 names. It has four societies, the sewing circle of 20 members, the Young People's society with about 35 members, and the Emmanuel and birthday societies of about 14 members each.

Funeral of Japanese Emperor Will Cost About $1,000,000

JAPANESE EMPEROR'S PALACE

TOKYO, Sept. 6.—The funeral services over the late Emperor Mutsuhito will begin Sept. 13 and end Sept. 15 and will cost about $1,000,000. The body has been lying in state in the imperial palace, and it is from there that the funeral procession will start at 8 p. m. Friday evening. The funeral car, the total weight of which will be 10,000 pounds, will be drawn by a specially selected team of seven oxen, called mandara ushi. The oxen have already been chosen and are now in Tokyo awaiting the funeral day. Following an ancient Japanese custom inaugurated at the time of Emperor Kwanmu, more than a thousand years ago, the imperial coffin will be placed on the car by 100 men of Hase Village, Kioto. Extreme difficulty was experienced in selecting these hundred men because of the many qualifications required. They must be from twenty to forty-five years of age and must never utter a word while marching in the procession, no matter what may happen. These men will attend the funeral car on its way to the parade ground. All who follow the funeral car must walk, even the present emperor not having a vehicle.

WOMAN'S HAIR REACHES TO KNEES

A Year Ago I Threatened With Baldness. Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of marvellously beautiful hair, which, when I read from its coils, falls to her knees. Moreover it is of a silky, fluffy texture and in color a glorious glossy jet. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. I tried to tell her she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said: "Had anyone told me such marvelous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at alarming rate and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in color, turning gray in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well known physician. It said by taking ordinary Lavona de Compose and mixing with four fourths of an ounce of Crystals and applying to the scalp each night with the finger tips, that decided to try it and I had my hair cut just mix 2 oz. of the Lavona de Compose with 6 oz. of Bay Rum and 12 dr. of Zenithol Crystals, and started to use it. My hair quickly my hair did grow. First the hair stopped falling, the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet and while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the hair, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it. Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

of Manchester after one of the most stormy conventions that the granite state had ever witnessed.

Churchill had introduced himself and his principles through "Coniston," a novel by his own pen, in which the abolition of the railroads and corporations, ever since legislation and politics was graphically portrayed through the character of the "Jethro Bass," a railroad lobbyist.

The fame of the book attracted hundreds to his rallies in spite of the fact that in most of the places where his meetings were held he found it impossible to enlist the services of any man bold enough to appear on the platform with him or to introduce him to his audience.

The provisional committee in urging the candidacy for Mr. Churchill has this to say of the political situation that calls for a third party movement and nomination:

"Mr. Franklin Worcester of Hallowell became the unopposed candidate of the republican party at the suggestion of Senator Gallinger, the leader in New Hampshire, and a leader in the United States of the 'invisible empire,' a man which we are in open revolt. He addressed the announcement of his candidacy to National Committee on Estabrook, a representative of the same interests, who has openly stated that he would have refused to vote for Mr. Roosevelt as the regularly chosen nominee of the republican national convention.

In such an emergency the progressive party of New Hampshire is fortunate in being able to summon to the lists a man of national reputation, of brilliant talents, of inspiring leadership; a man of unquestioned integrity and sincerity whose zeal and singleness of purpose in the present great struggle will prove a tower of strength in the coming campaign. Winston Churchill is a soldier of the common good, who in 1905 enlisted not for a skirmish or a battle, but for a war, and under his inspiring leadership we may confidently hope that the really progressive forces of the state will rally to the new standard of the square deal for all, with special privileges to none.

"The time is ripe and rotten-ripe for change."

STATE MACHINE IS FOR FOSS

Chairman Riley to Take Field for the Governor—Action Taken at Yesterday's Meeting

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—The democratic state committee yesterday lined up with Governor Foss in his contest with Dist. Atty. Belletier for the democratic nomination for governor when it approved the proposition made by Chairman Thomas P. Riley that he be allowed to participate as a speaker in the governor's campaign for re-nomination.

The committee was ready, so Chairman Riley stated last night, to go on record by a formal vote, but he prevented this being done because he was of opinion that "self-interested parties would distort any such action into evidence of attempted machine domination." He expressed himself as satisfied to meet and bear the brunt of such criticism himself.

There was not a full membership present at the meeting yesterday and among the absentees was John P. McDonald, former chairman of the state committee, now one of the chief Belletier supporters. Every member present, Judge Riley announced, discussed the proposition and went from one better by declaring that in view of the chairman's judgment and the reasons he had given the committee, he had a full right and privilege to appear and speak at the Foss meetings and that the best interests of the

In Both Capacities

The committee, said the chairman's announcement, expressed the belief that he not only had the right to appear in his individual capacity but that he had a right to appear in his official capacity.

Judge Riley told the committee that he was of the firm belief that democratic success not only in the state, but as far as this state has a bearing upon it, in the nation, depended wholly upon the re-nomination of Governor Foss. He went into some of the reasons for his belief that Dist. Atty. Belletier could not win if he was nominated and submitted the proposition that, while he should not inject partisanship into the organization meetings that are scheduled between now and the primaries, he should be allowed to participate as a speaker in the rallies to be arranged by the Foss campaign committee.

This move was preliminary to the launching of an energetic rally campaign to be begun in the future, as Foss next Monday and continued to the primaries. The governor has become convinced that aggressive work is needed on his part to effect the growth of Belletier sentiment in various sections of the state. Yesterday he said he had not become a can-

OLIVE OIL IN THE HOUSEHOLD

Next to bread, there is no one article of food which has so much value as pure olive oil. It is so easily digested that it can and should be used with nearly all our foods. Pompeian Olive Oil, from the finest groves in Italy, not chemically treated or adulterated in any way, has such a sweet, nutty taste that it improves the taste of foods and at the same time gives to the body health and strength.

Pompeian Olive Oil when mixed with the flour used in clam soup, cream of tomato, or other thick soups, imparts a most delicious flavor. In making fish cutlets, or frying fish of any kind, use Pompeian Olive oil instead of lard or tallow, and the taste will be improved one hundred per cent. Sweet potato croquettes, cold slaw, macaroni and other dishes are likewise made tastier when this oil is used. By reason of its sweet, nutty flavor, it should be used in preference to any other kind for salad dressings, especially when fruit salads are served. In scrambling eggs, a little cream and olive oil put in the frying pan gives you a dish better than anything you ever tried before. Ask your dealer for a book of Pompeian recipes, and when once you try this oil in cooking, you will never do without it.

Pompeian Olive Oil is sold by druggists and grocers. Full one-half pint cans, 25 cents; pint cans, 50 cents; full quart cans, 90 cents.

didate for re-nomination for the sake of preventing a contest, but if anybody thought he could be driven out by a fight he would give a further exhibition of his own fighting powers.

Organizing Campaign

Headquarters have been engaged on the seventh floor of the building at 15 Beacon street, four flights above the headquarters of the democratic state committee, and a campaign committee has been organized to take charge of this.

Rallies will be held in every section of the state, and the plan is to have the governor make two speeches each evening between now and the primaries. He did not go to the Atlantic Deep Waterways convention in New London until 5 o'clock last night, in order that he might go to Lowell with Humphrey O'Sullivan and attend the meeting of the Martin Luther club in that city.

Gov. Foss told several democrats yesterday that he could see no reason for making any answer to Dist. Atty. Belletier's inquiry as to whether he would support the choice of the primary. In the first place, the governor doesn't admit that his opponent will get more than 10 per cent. of the vote in the primary, and, in the second, he holds that he made himself clear at the outing at Canobie Lake last Saturday.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Number of Applications for Admission is Much Larger This Year Than Last Year

The industrial school as well as all other public schools will open next Monday morning and Principal Dooly of the industrial school says that the number of applicants for admission to the industrial school this year is much larger than last year. This year, of course, there will be a second year class, and next year a third year class. It will be rather difficult to find room for all of the pupils this year but Mr. Dooly allows that he can manage it somehow.

New machinery has been installed in the old Bartlett school within the last week or two, including new wood working machinery. The industrial school proper will be divided into four parts and in the old Bartlett carpentry, cabinet making and drawing will be taught. The school is equipped, too, with an up-to-date machine shop. In the main school there will be electrical work, auto repairing and the pupils there will also be taught mathematics and general academics. The morning school for girls will be run along the same lines as last year, except, of course, that there will be a second year class this year. The Old Moody school will open with the rest of the evening schools, probably the first Monday in October. The Old Moody school will be open evenings and Saturday afternoons.

JOHN REDMOND

The Irish Party Leader to Deliver Several Addresses in This Country Soon

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Plans for two big events in the program of the United Irish League—the biennial convention in Philadelphia Sept. 23 to 26, and the visit of J. M. Redmond, leader of the Irish forces in parliament, to Boston early in October—were under discussion last night at a meeting of the Boston central branch in the American house.

Mr. Redmond will come to America to attend the convention. He will have to return shortly afterward, so as to be on hand to lead the legislative battle in parliament. He will have time to deliver but four addresses, in Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and Boston. His Boston address will be made in Tremont Temple the evening of Oct. 2. National President Michael J. Ryan of the United Irish League will come from Philadelphia to speak at the same meeting.

At last night's meeting Christopher A. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee on badge for the biennial convention, reported on the design of the badge which will be obtained by delegates before going to Philadelphia. President Michael J. Ryan presided, with C. O'Connell acting as secretary.

Municipal Band Concert

A large number of people gathered at the South common, where they enjoyed a concert by the National band, with R. A. Griffith as director. The audience, though comparatively small, as it was widely thought that the municipal concert had ended with Labor day, was the most appreciative that has listened to one of these concerts in some time.

The program was a well chosen and pleasing one, including several operatic selections and delightful medleys. It was as follows:

March, Officer of the Guard..... Buglone Selection, Marlboro..... Wallace Grand medley, Superba..... Dalby Operatic selection, Prince of Pilsen..... Lancers Medley overture, Remick's Hilt..... Lampe Reverie, Apple Blossoms..... Becker Medley, Old Songs..... Dalby Selection, Woodland..... Lancers Fantasia, America..... Bendix Star Spangled Banner

CONCORD PETROLEUM COMPANY

Gets Its First Well of High Gravity Oil

THE COMPANY HONESTLY AND CONSERVATIVELY MANAGED IN THE INTEREST OF ITS STOCKHOLDERS

A Company With Proven Territory That Will Make Big Money for All Concerned

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000 PAR $1.00 EACH

Full paid and non-assessable. Incorporated under the laws of Arizona. Registered in the State of California.

Concord Petroleum Company's Well No. 1, Little Sespe District, Producing About 250 Barrels 33 Gravity Oil Daily

Since organization the Concord Petroleum Company has made wonderful progress. It has acquired eight hundred and twenty acres of proven oil land in the Little Sespe District, Ventura County, Cal.; has established its camp, consisting of five bunk houses, kitchen, storehouse and stable; built roads through the entire property and a water system connecting the camp with a natural spring. It has installed a standard drilling outfit, and after four and a half months of drilling has brought in its first well with a daily production, estimated at 250 barrels of 33 gravity oil.

THE DISTRICT

The Little Sespe District produces only high gravity oil. It is refined for gasoline, benzine, naphtha and various by-products. The rapid growth of the Automobile industry and the resultant increase in the demand for gasoline has steadily brought up the price for this oil and refineries are now paying $1.25 per bbl. at the well. Experts say it will bring $1.50 or more per bbl. a year from now. There are more than thirty refineries in California actively bidding for this grade of oil and the Concord Petroleum Company could readily contract for the sale of its entire output, covering several years at a good figure.

The life of oil wells in this district is unknown. The oldest well, owned by the Union Oil Company has produced for 23 years and is still pumping.

The Concord property adjoins property of the Union Oil Company, that is paying dividends of sixty cents ($0.60) a share monthly and the stock is quoted at $100 a share. A few years ago the company's assets were given as $300,000. Today they are estimated at $100,000,000. Other companies operating near the Concord property are the Big Sespe Oil Company, Red Man Oil Company, White Rock Oil Company, Guffy & Galey, two of the largest independent oil operators, Whitelaw Oil Company and the Moody Gulch Oil Company.

The increasing activity in the district has had its effect on land values. Land that two years ago could be bought for $25.00 an acre is now eagerly snapped up at $500 to $1000 an acre. The Little Sespe District is well on its way toward becoming the most important high gravity oil field in the world.

More than 200 wells can be drilled on this property and it is only a matter of getting the wells, to earn large dividends and cause substantial advances in the price of stock. One well like the first can earn six per cent. on the entire capitalization.

The allotment of stock for public subscription is limited and is made only for the purpose of continued development. As many more wells will be drilled without delay as sound financing will permit.

We recommend a purchase of Concord stock at the special price mentioned as a security having great profit-earning possibilities.

TRAINED DOVES

Phillippe Breton Takes Great Pleasure in Taming His White Tumbler Pigeons

"No one has anything on me, when it comes to training birds," said young Phillippe Breton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Breton of 23 Beaulieu street, when he exhibited to the writer a couple of white tumbler pigeons, which he held in his hands, and while he was talking the little fellow who was standing in the road opposite his house threw the birds in the air, but they quickly flew on his shoulders.

The boy said he purchased the doves a couple of weeks ago, and when he got them he could not even catch them after they were in their pen. He immediately set out to tame them, and his efforts were very successful, for the white birds will now eat out of his hands and they absolutely refuse to leave him.

The boy has a small pen in his yard and in the morning the birds accompany him to school in the next street, but when he reaches the school building he sets the pigeons free and they can go right into the pen and await his return at noon. They are now so tame that anybody can pick them up in his or her hands and pet them and they seem to like it.

"How much do you want for the doves?" queried the writer. "You haven't money enough to buy them," said the little fellow. "I am moving to Worcester next week with my family and the pigeons come with me, and I hope before long I will earn something at the fair with them." The boy is about 10 years of age and he is very fond of pet animals he gets the pigeons free and they can go right into the pen and await his return at noon. They are now so tame that anybody can pick them up

NO COAL FAMINE, SAY DEALERS

The Retail Prices Have Reached Their Highest Point—Supply Has Been Short

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Fear of famine prices for coal in Boston are needless, according to local dealers. A canvass of the situation indicates that retail prices have reached the limit for which justification can be shown. So far as can be foretold from present conditions of supply and transportation, there is no likelihood of a further rise in prices for the next few months.

The shortage in the local coal supply has been alarming for months, and dealers have received during the past month only about one-half the coal they required. Notwithstanding this shortage, and despite the fact that receipts at this port have not materially increased since the recent jump in prices, nearly all the local dealers believe they will be able to take care of their customers' orders. There may be some difficulty in filling large orders, however, according to some of the big dealers.

These leaders in the local coal trade say that every factor that enters into the problem of getting the coal from the mines to New England will have to be favorable in order to meet the full demand for fuel in this section.

Behind Normal Output

The mines are reported to be nearly 12,000,000 tons behind their normal output this year. They will be unable to mine a normal output before next spring. Even the general fear of still higher prices has not resulted in an unusual demand for coal in this city, according to the dealers.

The latest increase of 25 cents was hastened by the shortage, but was not directly due to it. Under the sliding scale of prices it would have become effective on Sept. 1. The shortage advanced the increase two weeks.

No marked relief from the shortage is looked for before the middle of November. If the present rate of increased production is maintained, however, there will be enough coal to dole out in small quantities to meet a normal demand at the present price.

Small dealers are assuring their customers that they will be able to supply their wants, although admitting privately that there is an element of gambling in predicting on the subject. They intend to keep pounding at the mines for an increase in shipments and hope that coal will begin to come east in greater volume when the western crops are moved.

Effect of Strike
The shortage is explained by the strike that obtained in the mine fields during last April and May. Since the resumption of work the operators have been bothered by minor strikes and the frequent holidays insisted upon by foreign miners. When the big strike began the coal supply of last year was depleted because of the long, hard winter. The strike prevented the usual spring stocking up by local dealers in anticipation of the fall demand.

When the strike was settled the operators, in accordance with the custom, gave the preference to the easily accessible lake ports and a large share of the output went thence to western points. This western movement will continue until navigation on the great lakes is stopped by ice, some time in November. Shipments will then take the line of least resistance to New England ports.

Boston is more fortunately situated than inland cities and towns of New England. The dealers in those cities and towns find it practically impossible to secure promises of shipments, and most of them have little coal on hand.

Yesterday the dealers in Lawrence raised prices 25 cents per ton on all grades except stove coal, which was raised 50 cents. Lawrence will now pay $5.50 for stove and chestnut, $6.25 for egg, and $7.25 for broken coal.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH BIGAMY SIXTY WERE RESCUED

Women in Lynn and Dorchester Claim Matthew Connell, Jr., as Their Husband

LYNN, Sept. 6.—Matthew Connell, Jr., 30 years old, a prominent Lynn business man and son of Matthew Connell of Atherton street, Saguenay, was arrested in Lynn late yesterday afternoon by Inspector Stanley Burrows of that city and Officer Corbin, attached to station 11 of the Boston police, on a warrant charging him with bigamy.

The warrant charges that Connell with a wife already living in Lynn married Miss Laura E. Kavanagh at South Portland Me. on June 7, 1907.

Connell's arrest created a great sensation in Lynn, where he is prominent both in business and social circles. In 1904 he married Miss Alice Hanson of Lynn, and the couple and their one child, a daughter, have lived at 115 Lawton avenue, that city, for several years.

The woman who claims to be his second wife, and who secured the warrant for his arrest, told the police of station 11 that he had married her under the name of John A. Hennigan and that they had lived under that name. She said that after the marriage they lived for some time in Portland and then moved to Wilton, N. H., where their only child, a son, was born. About two years ago they moved to Dorchester, living at 610 West Park street.

It was while living at this house, Mrs. Hennigan says, that she first became suspicious of her husband. In looking over a suit that had come from a tailor she discovered the name "Connell" sewn under the collar. Knowing that he had business connections in Lynn she went to that city.

For some time she made inquiries about Lynn, and soon became convinced that her suspicions were not unfounded. Then the worry she had gone through caused a general breakdown in her health, and with her young son she went to the home of Connell's father at 1 Atherton street, Saguenay, and told him her story. Since then she has made her home at his home.

When her health became better she secured Mr. H. Ricker, a Lynn attorney, to act for her. Mr. Ricker set on foot with the Boston police and on Wednesday a warrant was issued.

After his arrest Connell was brought back to Boston, and at station 11 Mrs. Hennigan identified him. Connell was held in $500 bonds, which were furnished.

Connell is a native of Lynn, and after completing his education entered business with his father. Several years ago he went into business for himself, opening the leather remnant factory and manufacturing shoes on a small scale. He is a prominent member of the Caledonian Club of Lynn.

LIGHT ON CAMPAIGN ISSUES

The democratic campaign next week has been issued and is a very complete presentation of the issues and facts pertaining to the campaign. The national committee, which issued this volume did the work quickly and well. This is the first campaign book of its kind to appear. The republican party, we presume, will not issue a text book if indeed it be not too badly "beaten up" to make the attempt. The book is a great repository of information on the tariff and in fact on every other topic involved in the political contest of the hour.

The light on the tariff is cast with in an exhaustive manner, especially in regard to the effect of the tariff upon the prices of commodities used in the household. On this subject there is an interesting presentation of the prices of such American products as sold abroad as compared with the prices in this country. This alone is sufficient to show the injury of the tariff as applied by the trusts and combines. Thus a machine's value abroad for $170, here $9.45; plastering trowels, $6.84 per dozen, $4.50 in the country; black saw blades, $3.00 a dozen here, $4.20; kamlay machines, $29 each, foreign $42.50 domestic.

Handfuls of cases might be quoted with the foreign price ranging from 25 to 50 per cent. less than the American price. The question arises, how can the highly protected manufacturer ship his products to foreign countries and sell them at 50 per cent. less than the American price? The answer is, he sells abroad at a loss or he is charging the American consumer an extortionate price. The fact is clear that the American trusts have protected against foreign competition and having throttled domestic competition, can charge the consumer the price he can pay. This explains why the cost of living is higher in this country than abroad because the cost of what we buy is higher than abroad.

The remedy, then, is to reduce the tariff on such articles so as to bring in moderate competition. There should be no tariff on the necessities of life, of which there is a paucity in this country. This applies to beef, sugar, potatoes and various other commodities that now sell at abnormal prices. Take for example the simple wash fabric dress requiring 11 yards. The cost of manufacture in the United States is $1.06 and in England $1.11. The eleven yards retail in England for $1.87 and in the United States for $2.75. This price is imposed and made possible by the Payne-Adams law. Under the Dingley law the tax was but 45 cents, while under the present law, according to these figures, it is 66 cents.

The average ad valorem duty upon imports last year was 42 per cent., while 23 per cent. or half this duty would serve all purposes. Yet, if the price of the goods so protected be increased but one-third of this rate or 14 per cent., the tariff tax on manufactured goods alone would be $1,800,000,000 of wholesale. This rate of 14 per cent. does not cover half the difference between the cost of living in England and this country. The tariff extortions clearly total more than $100 a year per family on manufactured goods. Special instances of the tariff extortion might be cited to emphasize the injustice done the consumer.

THE L. W. W. STRIKE ILLEGAL

The Sun yesterday devoted considerable space to the L. W. W. strike in the Appleton mills, not on account of its importance, but for the reason that it makes an appeal to the mill management, which if complied with, would destroy the liberty of the mill worker, restore the obnoxious custom that once prevailed and under which the operative had to yield slavish submission to his boss. That day is gone by and we must protest against the L. W. W. or any other body trying to restore it.

The operative now on strike at the Appleton mill make the ridiculous demand that the management either discharge certain other operatives or compel them to join the L. W. W. As well might they ask that the mill management liquidate the ears of every operative who does not see fit to join the L. W. W. It would be just as legal to do that as to entail a man's inalienable right to work for a living and to be free to join or not to join the L. W. W. or any other organization. The mill operative is no longer the slave of the mill boss and it is just as well for the L. W. W. to understand that they cannot make him a slave.

Does it not seem absurd that an organization claiming to work for the uplift of the operative, would favor a policy that would subject them to the very worst form of tyranny? We would respectfully inform the L. W. W. that they are on the wrong track this trip and that they are liable to prosecution on the ground of conspiracy if they persist in their course. Here is a law recently enacted to apply to such a case:

Sections 18 and 19, Chapter 154, Laws of 1909, read as follows:

Section 18. No person shall, by intimidation or force, prevent or seek to prevent a person from entering into or continuing in the employment of any person or corporation.

Section 19. No person shall, by intimidation or by his agent, coerce or compel a person into a written or oral agreement not to join or become a member of a labor organization as a condition of his securing employment or continuing in the employment of such person.

Do the mill operatives of Lowell want to return to the conditions that once prevailed in some places where they were obliged to vote as the bosses dictated? Then has the press denigrated the mill bosses for attempting to dictate how they should vote. At present, we believe, there is not a boss in any of the mills, who could attempt to interfere with his laborer in this respect but who would come a new organization, the L. W. W., and want the bosses to assume the role of tyrants and to compel their operatives to join the L. W. W. or otherwise lose their employment.

The city of Lawrence after its industries had been paralyzed by the great labor conflict was treated to another strike by a branch of the L. W. W., who got the same old mill operatives in the same mill with them returned to their old organization. That strike failed, as it should, because it aimed at abolishing one of the most sacred of the personal liberty guaranteed them by the constitution of the United States.

WHAT DEFEATED CHAMP CLARK

Applauded at the election of Champ Clark at Canobie Lake, the Johnstown Democrat has the following to say:

It was Champ Clark, the Democrat of Massachusetts, at his outing at Canobie Lake, N. H., the other day that he believed now and would hereafter be the only man who would be elected to the democratic nomination for president this year. That under the two-thirds rule Wilson and his half were not elected, and I never held a democratic belief in my life will be said. Still it was not the two-thirds rule that defeated him, but the fact that he was his ally with Bryan, Sullivan, Tamm and the Ryan-Belmont combination. He could not have secured even a majority in that convention and it is known in advance that he was going to the up with the resultaries.

We do not agree with the Democrat that Mr. Clark tied up with the reactionaries, such as Bryan and Belmont. We believe that they supported him in preference to Wilson, without any solicitation on his part. When a man is up as a candidate for office he cannot very well select his supporters unless he has more than enough to elect. The concession to Mr. Bryan to prevent his being to run with Roosevelt was also a factor.

The Boston hotel waiters, who have secured a 35 to 40 per cent. increase, should now be able to get along without tips. That hotel should advertise as a no-tip hotel and make a rule that any waiter found accepting a tip will be discharged.

The Greenleaf school badly in need of more room. The tax-payers are entitled to adequate school accommodation, because when the building is crowded, the ventilation is usually bad and consequently the health of the children is impaired.

Seen and Heard

We have been asked many times how that district in Bremen known as Navy Yard received its name, and as far as we can learn this is how it happened:

Many years ago a great amount of ship timber was rafted and floated down Merrimack river to Newburyport from the various towns in this vicinity. Beaver brook being a convenient place in which to arrange the timber into rafts, it was cut and drawn upon slides in winter time and left near the brook, just below where the mills now stand. At the time the land in the vicinity was thus covered over with oak timber, to be used in building ships. The person from whom this information is derived says: "So much ship timber gave the place the appearance of a navy yard." Hence the name.

Do you know what a real "knacker" is and the position he holds in the estimation of the general far-sighted public? If not, the following may hold interest for you for it is the most adequate and comprehensive description of one of those notorious public nuisances that has ever come to my notice. Just chance it over that you may recognize the next member of this detested species that you chance to meet. I believe that the writer of this little piece counted not the smallest thing that might serve to make one who is given to using the "knacker" too generally, universally unpopular. Here it is:

"A knacker is a mossbacked, swivel-headed, peevish, selfish suspicious, whining, hesitating, near-sighted fellow. His eye has a fondness for sarcasms and skeletons; his ears seem to itch for grunts, groans and shrieks of distress. His voice seems a strange combination of the squeal of a pig,

You Can Have Strong Nerves

If you are a nervous sufferer and are willing to help yourself there is no reason to become discouraged.

Good, pure blood, fresh air, nourishing food and a fair observance of the laws of health are all that you need to restore the strength and health of your nerves. Live up to these conditions and the nerves, brain, stomach, kidneys, heart and liver will keep in perfect working order. It is not new nerve tissue that is needed, but plenty of nourishment. Anything that you can do to build up your general health will strengthen your nerves. You will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People the greatest help. Free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, they start to work at once cleansing and enriching the blood, strengthening the stomach and carrying nourishment to every nerve, tissue and tiny cell throughout the body. Why not choose health now by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial?

Mrs. P. G. Gardner, of No. 3 Seely street, Adrian, Mich., says: "I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after I had given up all hope of ever having my strength back again. I became run down through overwork and worry. I was in bed and helpless for two weeks. My limbs from my knees down felt numb and I had no use of them. I had terrible pains in the top of my head and creeping sensations in the back of the neck. All summer and fall I doctored. We gave up housekeeping and boarded, as I thought I could gain faster, yet many mornings I could not go to breakfast for I would wake up feeling so faint and light-headed. Then I made up my mind to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began with them and gradually increased the dose until I was taking three pills after each meal. I used the pills until my nerves were steady, my appetite and sleep good and I felt entirely well. My daughter has since taken the pills for her blood and poor color with good results."

Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are highly recommended for neurasthenia or nervous debility, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous headaches and St. Vitus' dance. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. "A knacker is worse than a wart on the public nose. He is a cancerous growth upon the face of social beauty. He is the tuberculosis of life. He is a orick in the neck, a catch in the back, the string-baited, balky horse in the team; a brake upon the wagon bound up hill; the leak in the steam chest of the engine; the short circuit of the electric battery, the discordant note in music. Men with headstall spirit for public improvement stung him as they would a leper, tread on him as a serpent, and despise him as a howling curate, a skunk or a peasant. Don't knock, knock!"

THE CHOIR INVISIBLE
O, may I join the choir invisible!
Of those immortal dead who live again
In minds made better by their presence;
Meet live.

In pulses stirred to generosity,
In deeds of daring rectitude, in scorn
Of miserable aims that end with self,
In thoughts sublime that pierce the night
like stars,
And with their mild persistence urge man's search
To vaster issues.

So to live is heaven;
To make undying music in the world,
Breathing as luscious order that controls
With growing sway the growing life of man.

So we inherit that sweet purity
For which we struggled, failed and agonized
With widening retrospect that bred despair,
Rebellious flesh that would not be subdued,
A vicious parent shaming still its child.

Poor, anxious penitence is quick dissolved;
His discords quenched by meeting harmonies,
Die in the large and charitable air;
And all our rarer, better, truer, self,
That sobbed religiously in yearning
songs,
That watched to ease the burden of the world,
Laboriously tracing what must be,
And what may yet be better—saw within

A worthier image for the sanctuary
And shaped it forth before the multitude,
Dignified human raising worship so
To higher reverence more fixed with love.

That better self shall live till human
Time
Shall fold its eyelids, and the human sky
Be gathered like a scroll within the loam
Unread forever.

This is life to come,
Which martyred men have made more glorious
For us who strive to follow. May I reach
That purer heaven, be to other souls
The cup of strength in some great arony.

Enkindle generous ardor, feed pure
love,
Desert the smiles that have no cruelty,
Be the sweet presence of a good diffused,
And in diffusion ever more intense!

So shall I join the choir invisible,
Whose music is the gladness of the world.

KNUCKLES USED TO CRACK AND BLEED

Hands Chapped, Suffered Terrible Pain. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Five Weeks, Hands Fine.

674 Park Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.—"My hands used to chap and bleed and they pained me very much. When I put them in water they used to burn terribly, especially in hot water. My hands looked dirty; that was because they were so chapped. The knuckles used to crack and bleed and I suffered terrible pain. I tried different remedies but they never did any good. A friend told me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I put some and made a lather from the Cuticura Soap and washed my hands, then I dried them and put the Cuticura Ointment on and put on a pair of old gloves. I was surprised to see how my hands were healed. They used to be red and rough and now they are soft as velvet. I tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for a week and they got fine. I have no more trouble with my hands since I always use Cuticura Soap and I can't praise it enough to all my friends." (Signed) Mrs. M. Welman, Dec. 22, 1911.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue using for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. U, Boston."

60-Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

The Newport, R. I. Herald of Sept. 4 says of "Alma," which comes to the Opera House tomorrow, matinee and night: "There is not a great deal to 'Alma,' which was presented at the Opera House last evening, but some bright, pretty music, and as this was well rendered there was some good to the show. The piece is styled a French vaudeville and is adopted by Paul Herve with music by Jean Briquet. As it is French it is at times quite daring in its method, especially at the close of the second act, when Alma, partially disrobed, here 'Alma' well sung, soon relieves the situation. The piece is well staged, the two settings being attractive and quite complete. May Latham as Alma sang well and acted with considerable vivacity. John Saunders did the part of Theophile full justice. He is a good comedian and carries much of the show. Jesse Williamson, as Pierre Le Peche, a French country boy, sang well with Miss Latham and was especially good. In his acting he quite met all requirements. The other parts were not exciting and were in competent hands. The house was of good size and appreciative."

OFFICER 666

"Officer 666," a Cohan & Harris production of Augustin MacHugh's farce of that name, is one of the best plays presented in America in the past 20 years. More correctly speaking, "Officer 666" is a melodramatic farce that makes of farce a fine art. Its climaxes are gripping, its story laugh-compelling, and its plot a perfect mesh of complicated situations that present a double for police inspection that is full of much mystery and many merry moments.

There never was a musical comedy production brought forth with the care and attention to detail that was lavished upon "The Pink Lady," and its sensational success, both abroad and in America is the best proof that this watchfulness pays. After months of anxious and careful preparation, "The Pink Lady" was submitted to the public approval. It leaped into instant fame and for over 40 weeks ran at the New Amsterdam theatre with one sign of slackening interest in the big production. Ordinarily a piece of such popular appeal is allowed to drift along for months, but "The Pink Lady" & Brainerd productions, every Monday morning at 10 o'clock Mr. A. L. Brainerd was on the stage in active charge and a full rehearsal was held. In this performance was kept right up to their earliest standard and these who saw the performance of "The Pink Lady" in London, even after its phenomenal run of a year here witnessed just as painstaking.

PRIMROSE AND DOCKSTADER'S GREATER MINSTRELS

The costume of a minstrel does not admit of much originality or change. It is used as indelibly as the melody of the ancient court fester. But when Primrose and Dockstader's Greater Minstrels are seen at the Opera House on Tuesday night, Sept. 10, they will be replete in the most approved minstrel designs made especially for the occasion. The settings, and particularly that of the opening and the closing days closing will be novel as well as rich and elaborate. Everything about this minstrel production has been made especially under the direction of Mr. Primrose and Mr. Dockstader, and will be a most telling for the reunion of these two old-time favorites.

ALICE LLOYD

Alice Lloyd, whose remarkable trip across America last year as the star of the joyous musical comedy, "Little Miss Fix-It," made it evident that she could fascinate theatregoers on this side of the seas with her coquetry, roguish eyes and sweet voice as she, had in England, will pay her first visit as a star to this city on Sept. 11. "Little Miss Fix-It" is presented by Werthe and Luercher, the famous sponsors for these famous successes, "The Spring Maid" and "The Rose Maid." The organization presenting "Little Miss Fix-It" is the same that was so greatly praised during the long season last year, and Miss Lloyd is announced to sing the joyous songs which have made her so popular in London. She will also take part in the lively whirling "Texas Tommy" the music of which resounded across the continent from Newport to San Francisco in record-making time.

So you can't say a word.

MARY.
Mary had a 'lectric car
That never tried to dunk
One day it gave the curb a jar
And now it's mostly junk.

THE REAL REASON.
The boy upon the burning deck
Expressed himself with vim.
"I got out of this by back
You let 'em learn to swim!"

MANY WANT 'EM.
Now, if the office seek the man,
You bet your bottom dollar
Before it's over, 'twill have
A dozen by the collar.

in San Francisco and received his education at St. Ignace college of that place. During his college career he took part each year in the annual Shakespeare play given. His natural ability in interpreting the various parts assigned to him attracted the attention of the professor under whose management these plays were given and on his advice he decided to follow the theatrical profession. While in San Francisco he became associated with the stock company playing at the Central theatre and filled out a successful season with that organization. Later on he became identified with "The Orpheum Players" of Philadelphia, a stock company that compares with the very best in the country. He also was a member of "The Marlowe Stock Company" of Chicago, and filled out a season at Polk's theatre, Waterbury. He played a short engagement with a stock company in Lynn a few years ago. Mr. Smythe comes to Lowell from New York City, bearing the recommendation of members of the profession whose judgment ranks with the best critics of the east.

Keith's Theatre
If you hear Bonita and Lew Hearn sing "Kitchy Koo" at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, you will recognize the plaintive, fascinating little negro melody as one of the really, truly popular pieces of harmony in seasons. It is a little gem, with effective words and a jolly swing to it which is really irresistible. Mr. Hearn and his accomplished companion gave a delightful 30 minutes snatched from recent musical successes, and all of the familiar situations are embraced in it. Needless to state it is made as a laughing vehicle exclusively. Willard Hutchinson, appearing in "A Leap Year Leap" gives a polished little comedy dealing with the awkward love making of a young man who fears to make a last proposal of marriage. He dreads breaking the promise until his hand is forced in the matter. Miss Rosamond Harrison, his companion in the act, makes a delightful actress and is a handsome woman. Little Jennie Childs is uncommonly talented, and has a dash and vim to her work which are only too readily appreciated. Worthwhile, Vesta & Teddy are a pair of comely acrobats, and Ward & Culhane are dancers of excellence. The Gagnaux and Parisian jugglers, Tom Kyle & Co. supply the most complete variety of the season. The most complete of the season are Falardo, the instrumental man, The Balla Bros. Mexican serenaders, Goldie Reinhardt & Co. and Harrington & Lens. The pictures, of which there was an entire change yesterday, are usually the best to be found anywhere. "One Round O'Brien" being among those shown.

Merriam Square Theatre
Despite the fact that the weather has been rather unseasonable for this time of the year the attendance at the Merriam Square theatre this week has been one of the largest for many moons. This fact is probably due in part to the King and Jack of Jokesmiths, Kenny and Hollis, who are playing an engagement here this week. Other acts that go to make the present bill are of the most popular of the season are Falardo, the instrumental man, The Balla Bros. Mexican serenaders, Goldie Reinhardt & Co. and Harrington & Lens. The pictures, of which there was an entire change yesterday, are usually the best to be found anywhere. "One Round O'Brien" being among those shown.

Enough cannot be said of the supper hour matinee which are about one of the most popular innovations ever offered Lowell theatre folk. Here one may come in at any hour and be sure of seeing something that will make an interesting and profitable thing. There are also the most up-to-date and are a great convenience for shoppers, appointments, etc. In fact, if one were to take the many conveniences, pleasures and entertaining features in and about the Merriam Square theatre it would fill the whole paper. Besides it isn't necessary.

The Casino
In making your week-end plans, don't forget The Casino, recognized as the biggest and best dance hall ever built in this section. The Casino standard of amusement has seldom been duplicated anywhere by managers of public amusement enterprises, and it stands today as it did at its inception, a model for others to follow. The big Casino orchestra daily gives free concerts, with James H. Buckley and Roscoe McDaniels as the corner soloists, and to these concerts an invitation is extended to all. Dancing follows the free concerts. The Casino is open every night but Sunday, and is also open on Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

Lakeview Dance Hall
A "money hunt" will be the feature introduced at the hall this evening and this number promises to be one of the greatest novelties ever given at the hall. The hall will come to wit, to dance, whether a dancer or not. Tomorrow evening, there will be an augmented orchestra on the job and many new pieces will be played. Dancing will also be held in the afternoon. Dancing will be held at the hall next week.

Christopher Fox Dead

WHOLESALE BURGLARY

Extensive Job Was Done in New York City

POLICE WERE SUMMONED BY BURGLAR ALARM

The Intruders Raided Eight Floors of Building and Got Considerable Merchandise

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—One of the most extensive jobs of wholesale burglary ever accomplished in New York city was discovered shortly before day-break this morning when the police were called to an eleven story loft building on University place by the sounding of a burglar alarm from the ninth floor. When the police arrived it was found that the burglars had been through every one of the first eight floors, occupied by various clothing manufacturers. The intruders had gone through all the stock rooms and offices and had evidently removed several truck loads of merchandise.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Addressed Delegates to the Atlantic Deepwaterways Convention on the Closing Day

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 6.—A bit of revolutionary history was woven into the program of the closing day of the Atlantic Deepwaterways convention today when the delegates left off consideration of transportation problems to hear the address of President Taft who, as a guest, took part in the 131st patriotic observance of the defense by Colonial farmers in Fort Griswold on Groton Heights against the British under Benedict Arnold. The granite shaft on the heights which marks the spot of the massacre of the patriots is but a short distance from the Griswold, in which the advocates of intra-coastal canals have been holding their sessions. The convention program was cleared of its subjects, a place selected for next year's convention and officers chosen to carry on the movement during the next year. Former Congressman and Governor of New York, Joseph F. Gray, railroad commissioner of Georgia and Mayor Donnelly of Trenton were the speakers.

Big Auto Races

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 6.—Never have the arrangements for automobile road racing been made on a more elaborate scale than the preparations for the Vanderbilt cup program to be run off here Sept. 19, 20 and 21. The program begins with the $10,000 American Grand Prix over a distance of 110 miles and winds up with the classic Vanderbilt cup race at 200 miles.

DOUBLE MURDER WAS PLANNED

Sheriff Says That Woman and Man Entered Into a Compact—
Man Made a Confession

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 6.—Execution of a double murder plot by which Mrs. C. C. Bailey conspired to rid herself of her husband, a wealthy lumber mill owner, and A. L. Watson aimed to do away with his wife, was revealed today by Sheriff Flourney, who says he has the written confessions of both Watson and Mrs. Bailey, who are confined in jail here.

According to the confession narrated by Sheriff Flourney, three months ago at Shreveport, Texas, Mrs. Bailey and Watson entered into a compact by which Watson was to poison his wife and Mrs. Bailey her husband. Watson did away with his wife without arousing suspicion but repeated efforts by Mrs. Bailey failed to rid her of the dose.

Watson came to Louisiana and obtained work of Bailey. He urged Mrs. Bailey to hurry the job and she tried but again failed. In the meantime Bailey became suspicious and quarreled with his wife. Monday she left their home. Watson crept into the house during the night and murdered Bailey with an axe, according to his confession. Watson is 45 years old and has three daughters.

COMMISSIONER WALDO TESTIFIED

Denied That He Ordered Disorderly Houses Should Not Be Raided

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Elinor Waldo, New York's commissioner of police, was the first witness called to the stand today at the departmental trial of Cornelius G. Hayes, the deposed police inspector, charged with making false statements concerning the commissioner, Douglas H. McKay, first deputy commissioner presiding, having overruled the contention of Hayes' lawyer, that he was incompetent to preside because he had been subpoenaed as a witness.

Commissioner Waldo testified that he called before him on Aug. 25 the various inspectors to ascertain which one of them, if any, had given an anonymous interview, published that day, to the effect that orders had been given by him (Waldo) that no disorderly houses should be raided without his instruction.

Inspector Hayes then told me that he understood his orders were not to raid disorderly houses without specific instructions from me," Waldo continued.

"Had you ever given him such orders," asked Terence Farley, assistant corporation counsel representing the department.

"No, I gave him no orders other than the general instructions to observe peace and good order and to enforce all the laws. The inspector was personally responsible for the enforcement of the laws, including the excise laws and those against gambling in his district and to aid him and other inspectors we maintained a special squad of detectives."

"Did you ever instruct Hayes to refrain from obtaining evidence against disorderly houses?" Farley asked.

"He was never given any instructions of that kind in any form whatsoever," Waldo replied. "This ended the direct examination and Thomas Thatcher, counsel for Hayes, began the cross examination by asking if Waldo had not made a record for eliminating graft in the fire department."

COMMISSIONER WALDO HAD TO FACE A SEVERE CROSS-EXAMINATION TODAY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The relationship between Mayor Gaynor and the New York police department and his views and attitude on the city's so-called vice and excise problems and the extent to which the department

Large Attendance at Normal School
A Number of Out-of-Town Pupils Registered

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

With an attendance that equaled, if not surpassed, that of last year, the normal school of this city opened yesterday for the fall term.

The class rolls contain the names of pupils from all the surrounding towns and cities and of all these Lowell naturally contributes the greatest number. The list is as follows for the senior class: Lowell, 23; Lawrence, 24; Haverhill, 3; Methuen, 3; Wilmington, 2; Graniteville, 2; Ballardvale, 2; and North Andover, 2. For the junior class: Lowell, 23; Lawrence, 24; Haverhill, 3; Methuen, 3; Wilmington, 2; Graniteville, 2; Ballardvale, 2; and North Andover, 2.

For the Juniors, Lowell and Lawrence, 19 each; Haverhill and North Andover, 4 each; Cambridge, Westford and Bradford, 2 each; Dracut, 1 each.

At that time Private Douglas bought out, and on the day of his discharge Private Santee came here. As yet a successor to the latter has not been named, but Sgt. Carney expects that a man will be detailed to the office soon.

The recruiting season is now on at full blast and in all stations excellent results are reported. At the local station the month to date has proven very successful. On the 4th, two men were accepted through the local station and at present there are three waiting a visit of the head recruiting officer of the district, who resides in Boston. After the men make application in Lowell, they are examined by the local men and if they meet with all the requirements they go to Boston for another inspection and then to Fort Slocum, N. Y., for the final test.

Tri-monthly reports are made by the man in charge of the station and Sgt. Carney expects that his report for the first ten days of this month will be one of the best ever submitted.

MOUSE CARNIVAL

Several Thousand People Enjoyed the Attractions Yesterday Afternoon and Last Night

Yesterday was a big day at the Mouse carnival at Washington park and several thousand people enjoyed themselves during the afternoon and evening. The crowd in the afternoon was made up principally of women and children. The little ones, especially, had a good time on the ocean wave and merry-go-round.

There is but one more day of the carnival and those who have not visited the grounds should do so either today or tomorrow for the free attractions alone are of a very high order. Harry Fox, the high diver whose sensational dives into a shallow tank of water are one of the features of the carnival, is a professional swimmer of more than ordinary ability. It was he who swam from the Battery at the lower end of Manhattan, to St. George's Island, a few years ago, and who also accomplished the feat of swimming from London bridge to Tilbury fort on the river Thames, in England, last summer. Six is the holder of a number of medals and other trophies, and is also the owner of the Mouse Island diving party show, one of the most popular attractions on the carnival grounds. The girls include several other prizes and covers, and do some graceful and interesting stunts in the water.

The "queen of the carnival" contest, which ends on Saturday evening, is becoming more interesting with each round of battles, and the excitement among the different contestants and their friends is at fever heat. There was a slight error in the count published yesterday, but this has been rectified, and the present count shows Miss Peacock as having still ahead with 2342 votes to her credit. Miss Sadie McKenna following closely with 2187, while Miss Annie Adams is a close third with 2029 votes. The other possible winners are Miss Elizabeth Hennessey, 1946; Miss Stella Goldman, 1846; Miss Alice Peacock, 1745; Miss Anna Murphy, 1606; Miss Rose Ducharme, 1574; Miss Grace A. Pickering, 1524; Miss Ben. Warriner, 1276; Miss Ruth C. Hunter, 1164; Miss Rose McCullough, 1044; Miss Josephine Sullivan, 967; Miss Alice Donahue, 518. The vote will again be counted this evening, the boxes remaining at the seating until noon tomorrow, after which all votes must be cast at the voting station at the carnival grounds. The last ballot will close at 5:15 on Saturday evening, when the prizes will be awarded.

Girl and Her Father Enter Action
Against Auto Company as Result of
Accident

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Damages aggregating $70,000 are asked by Miss Laura Worth, a minor, and her father, Harry Worth, in suits brought in the superior court yesterday against the Boston Motor company and Nathaniel S. H. Saunders of Danvers, named as owner. The suits are a result of injuries said to have been sustained by Miss Worth when she was struck by an automobile on Belvidere street in the Back Bay, Nov. 25, 1911. Her hip is alleged to have been broken.

Miss Worth asks $25,000 of each defendant, and her father asks $10,000 from each for the loss of his daughter's services and medical expenses incurred.

In another suit brought in the superior court yesterday, Jane McNamara asks $50,000 for injuries due to falling down a flight of stairs at 77 Evans street, Boston. The suit is brought against the owner, Josephine Hill, the plaintiff alleging that the stairs were not properly lighted.

BADEN WON THE $10,000 STAKE

BADEN, WINNER OF $10,000 STAKE

The Trotting Battle Was One of the Greatest Ever Staged at Charter Oak Park

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 6.—In one of the greatest trotting battles ever staged at Charter Oak park, the brown stallion Baden yesterday afternoon won the classic Charter Oak $10,000 stake for 2:14 trotters. For five heats the classy field battled before the winner was decided, the bay mare, Esther W., who conquered Baden last week in the Massachusetts stake at Readville, winning two heats and losing the final on account of a break at the half.

The crowd which saw the race was the largest of the week and they saw one of the best programs which has been staged on the grand circuit. This season, the three events other than the big stake being hotly contested, especially the event for amateur drivers, which had a small field, but rivaled the Charter Oak in time and the fierce manner in which the two leading horses fought it out.

The Wanderer drew the pole in the Charter Oak, with Bergen second, and Starter Walker had little trouble in getting them away. Esther W., breaking soon after the start. The Wanderer and Castle Dome were the first to show but Baden moved to the front at the half and the balance of the way had things his own way, the Cincinnati mare, Ruth McGregor, rushing up very fast at the finish and getting the place. The second heat found Baden in front all the way. Esther W. trotted very fast around the upper turn, but could not get through in time. Ruth McGregor again landing the place, with Esther W. third.

Baden broke going away in the third heat and fell back, while Esther W. was on a trot and a comfortable third up the backstretch. Annie Kohl led, but Cox moved Esther to the front rounding the upper turn, and Baden, with a great spurt, came through on the inside, but broke at the seventeenth, which spoiled his chances. Esther W. beating Annie Kohl in a driving finish in 2:05 1/2, a new record for the bay mare.

When she went out, trotted all the way and beat Baden the third heat in 2:06 1/2. It looked that Walter Cox had the big race as good as won. In the final heat Esther W. and Baden went away together and the clip was fast. Rodney stepping Baden fast and showing in front passing the half, at which point the mare left her feet in a tangled break which was fatal to her chances.

When she recovered she was far in the rear of the field, but it was the last chance and Cox took it, teaming her for his life. In a burst of speed such as is seldom seen on a race track the mare took up the rear, stern chase and mid way down the stretch had overhauled all but the flying stallion. The finish was a hard one, but the long drive had told on the mare, and she hung in the last few strides, Baden beating her a neck in 2:10.

This is the second $10,000 stake for Baden this season, he having also won three of $5000, and leads all of the money winners by a wide margin. The 2:20 trot, with amateur drivers, was figured to be a duel between Zarrine and Dorsh Medium, and such it proved. The former led in the early part of both the first and second heats, but Dorsh Medium beat her in hard drives in the stretch. The latter broke in the third heat, which went to Zarrine in 2:07 1/2, a new record for the 4-year-old from Colorado. Dorsh was on a trot all the way in the fourth and beat Zarrine in a close finish.

Two-Year-Olds Go Fast

The race for 2-year-old trotters was a two-horse affair between Axworthy and Senorita, the former just losing the Detroit filly out in each heat. The 2-year-olds were a classy bunch, the event going to Dillon Axworthy in time nearly as fast as the 2-year-olds showed. Nathan Axworthy was a very comfortable second each time.

The weather was threatening during the afternoon, and the last heats of the Charter Oak and 2:20 trot were raced in a drizzling rain. Cox, Dodge and Carpenter were timed 50 seconds in the Charter Oak stake for scoring ahead of the pole horse.

TOOK DOSE OF CARBOLIC ACID

Body of Dr. Willard C. Crocker
Was Found in the Woods
at Foxboro

FOXBORO, Sept. 6.—The body of Dr. Willard C. Crocker, who had been missing since Tuesday morning, was found about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the woods on the shore of Neponset reservoir.

Death was caused by a dose of carbolic acid, self-administered. A drained cup was by his side and also an empty two-ounce vial.

The body was found by a member of a posse that went out yesterday afternoon in response to a fire alarm.

The body was found by a member of a posse that went out yesterday afternoon in response to a fire alarm.

Medical Examiner E. A. Bragg viewed the body and an undertaker took charge of it.

Dr. Crocker, who had been a resident of this town for many years, returned Sunday from Hyannis, his old home, where he passed the greater part of the summer. On Monday he greeted many friends about town and appeared to be in a happy mood. He stopped at his brother's house. About 9 o'clock Tuesday morning he visited his room to change a straw hat for a felt one, the day being lowly, and left the house without announcing that he intended going away. As he had always left word with relatives when he planned to be absent, fears began to form Tuesday night on his failure to put in an appearance.

All of Wednesday, his brother, Dr. B. P. Crocker, assisted by Chief of Police White and Constable Cody, made a tour of the town, trying to get trace of the missing man. Yesterday forenoon they learned that about 10:30 Tuesday morning, Mrs. Henry R. Morrill saw Dr. Crocker pass her home, going toward the reservoir. Shortly afterward Assessor Fred H. Richards said he saw the doctor in the vicinity of the reservoir Wednesday morning. The woods about the reservoir Wednesday afternoon, when the selection, relatives and Chief White concluded that Dr. Crocker, dead or alive, must be near or in the lake. At 4:30 box 20 sounded and 50 men constituted the posse that was conveyed to the reservoir in barges. Amos Brigham of the fire company soon discovered the body at the water's edge. The department recall was then sounded.

Dr. Crocker had removed his coat.

John Philip Sousa, Greatest Bandmaster, Finds Recreation in Tuxedo Tobacco.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA
Composer and Bandmaster.

"Tuxedo gives an absolutely satisfying smoke; fragrant, mild and pleasant"

There is hardly an intelligent person living who has not heard of the great Sousa. There is hardly a home possessing a piano where his stirring marches are not played. This year Sousa's band reaches its majority—the age of twenty-one; and this year, too, the famous composer has found a new recreation. That is pipe smoking.

"Formerly," said the great musician, "I smoked nothing but cigars. Only recently a friend introduced me to Tuxedo tobacco. I tried it. And now I often hesitate between a cigar and my pipe. Tuxedo gives an absolutely satisfying smoke; it is fragrant, mild and pleasant. It has the quality of a fine cigar. A pipe of it affords absolute rest."

Mr. Sousa is unique among the musicians of the world, in that he has taken a band organization and raised it to an orchestral standing. The world over, his famous band is taken as a model, not only for bands, but for famous orchestras as well. Mr. Sousa's appeal to the public may be explained by the sympathy of the great master with the public. The highest priced of conductors, his greatest pleasure nevertheless is in affording pleasure to the people. His music especially expresses the spirit of America—the vim, and zest, and "go" of the American spirit.

Mr. Sousa is one of hundreds—yes, thousands—of the forceful, virile leaders of American thought who unhesitatingly endorse Tuxedo tobacco. Dr. Madison C. Peters, Rex Beach, Lew Fields, and many, many others are in the notable list.

Mr. Sousa says: "I wonder that more men do not smoke pipes. For the great mass of American men, a pipeful of Tuxedo is a wholesome pleasure. Anything that makes for the comfort of the people interests me, so I can recommend Tuxedo."

"A pipe is a new pleasure to me. Tuxedo, an absolutely satisfying smoke."

vest and hat and laid them carefully by his side. Seated on a stump he took the fatal dose and fell backward into a shallow pool of water. Medical Examiner Bragg was of the opinion that the man's death took place Wednesday.

His watch and other valuables were in his clothing and undisturbed.

Among his letters was a parting note to his brother which in substance stated: "It is said that the only relief from his suffering was death."

It is said the doctor had been growing despondent for some time, but it was thought that a summer at the shore would prove beneficial to him.

GREAT MEETING

Held in Lyon Street School in Interest of the Candidacy of Humphrey O'Sullivan

The largest early season meeting in the history of ward four, and perhaps in the history of any other ward in the city, was held in the Lyon street school last night, but it was a Humphrey O'Sullivan meeting and that accounted for the success of it. The meeting was called for the purpose of perfecting a ward organization, but it took on the proportions of an old time rally. There were about 200 present and the evening's humidity did not dampen either the ardor or enthusiasm of the crowd.

It was a very successful meeting and everybody concerned was pleased with every feature of it. The ward organization was perfected with Hon. James B. Casey as chairman and John W. Buckley, secretary. There were speeches by Mr. O'Sullivan, Mr. Casey and Mayor Robert J. Crowley. The meeting adjourned to the call of the chair. A meeting for the purpose of perfecting an organization in ward five to further the candidacy of Humphrey O'Sullivan for congress will be held in the Fayette street school this evening at 8 o'clock, and it should be a repetition of last night's meeting at the Lyon street school.

Lowell Textile School

The Lowell Textile School will open September 24 and Principal Charles H. Eames says the outlook for the year is good. "We will hold our entrance examinations next Tuesday and Wednesday," he said, "and it will be impossible for me to make any very definite statement at this time. All I can say is that everything looks very favorable and I feel that we are going to have a big school this year."

FUNERAL NOTICES

YOUNG MEN FINED

FOR TRESPASSING ON LAND ON CUSHING STREET

Two youths in Court for Breaking Into Store and Stealing Goods to the Value of Four Cents

Six young men, Frank Coughlin, Edward Coughlin, James Poole, John Purcell, Joseph Lake and James Carville, the latter the one-legged man, were all arrested by Patrolman Ganley charged with trespassing on the land of Elvin W. Lovejoy in Cushing street. The two Coughlin boys were represented by Attorney John J. McClure and they entered a plea of not guilty and the others all followed suit.

The superintendent of the firm was the first witness called and he said that the land in question, on which is situated a sort of storehouse, was being used by this gang as a resort and it was nothing more than a common nuisance. He further stated that he had machinery stored in the building and the latter was being damaged by the crowd of boys who made their place their abode. He also said there was a notice of trespassing forbidden on the building.

Patrolman Ganley testified that on Saturday afternoon last all the defendants were on the land and business as they ran away at his approach he arrested them later.

John Purcell, one of the defendants, when called to testify, said he was not around the place on the Saturday in question and furthermore he said he never associated with this crowd. Carville, when called to the witness stand said he was in Cushing street last Saturday but was about 50 feet from Lovejoy's land.

Frank Coughlin stated that he went to the Bigelow Carpet Co's cutting at Kankakee beach last Saturday, while his younger brother admitted being near the premises, when the officer came around. Lake said he went to the baseball game Saturday afternoon and returned home at about 6:30 o'clock, while Poole said he goes through the land every day in order to get to his work, as he lives on the premises.

After hearing the evidence, Judge Wright found Frank Coughlin, John Purcell and Joseph Lake not guilty and ordered them discharged. Edward Coughlin and James Poole were assessed $10 each and were given a month to pay the fine, while Carville, who was on a probation term for larceny, was surrendered by the probation officer. His case of trespassing was placed on file, while for larceny he was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory. He appealed and was held in the sum of $300.

Case Continued

The case of John Green, charged with threatening the superintendent of the Boston & Maine car shop in Billerica, was called on continuance, and again was postponed until Tuesday at the request of the government which was not quite ready with its case.

Breaking and Entering

Wilfred Locke and Joseph Denomme were both arraigned in court on a complaint charging them with breaking and entering the shop of John Watson and stealing therefrom goods to the value of four cents. Locke admitted his guilt, but Denomme denied any knowledge of the crime. The case was continued until Tuesday morning and both were held in the sum of $200.

Case Dismissed

The case of George de Souza, who was charged with assault and battery on Henrique Goncalves, was called on continuance this morning, but because the complainant failed to put in an appearance, the case was dismissed after Deputy Downey had informed the court that the complainant could not be located.

Drunkness

There were only two drunken offenders in the dock this morning and inasmuch as they were second offenders, they were assessed $2 each. They were Frank L. Reed and Joseph H. McBride.

have been purchased to replace the old ones. Besides these a number of further improvements have been made, and the structure is now one of true modern safety and comfort.

Sunday there will be the usual morning service and communion, and another service will take place in the evening. All the Swedish people of Lutheran faith, together with others, are invited to be present at the opening of the church.

The Swedish Lutheran society was founded in the year 1879 at a meeting held in an old stone house on Whipple street for this purpose. In spite of many difficulties, the society increased in numbers, but the church in which they were to hold their worship was not constructed until the year 1884. At that time it had a total membership of 81 and at present the enrollment contains 408 names. It has four societies, the sewing circle of 20 members, a Young People's society with about 95 members, and the Emmanuel and birthday societies of about 14 members each.

BASS JOINS THE PROGRESSIVES

Governor of N. H., Leaves Republican Party and Urges Churchill to Run for Governor

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 6.—In a signed statement addressed to the citizens of New Hampshire, Gov. Robert P. Bass yesterday renounced his allegiance to the republican party, and threw his political fortunes with Roosevelt and Johnson and the progressives.

Simultaneously with the announcement of Gov. Bass the provisional committee named by the mass meeting of New Hampshire progressives at Manchester, on July 26, with authority to act in regard to the nomination of independent candidates, made its report, recommending the nomination of Winston Churchill of Cornish as the candidate of the progressives for governor.

The provisional committee also recommends the nomination of such other candidates in the lesser constituencies throughout the state as may approve themselves to the progressive sentiment of these communities and declares that "The progressive party must be a state as well as a national organization."

It is generally understood that Mr. Churchill will endorse the report of the committee and consent to stand as the candidate of the progressives. It is said that the report was issued only after he had been consulted and had practically assured the committee of his willingness to make the campaign if called upon to do so.

Gov. Bass, in his statement to the people, expressed the hope that Mr. Churchill "will consent to be our candidate for governor" and pledges him his enthusiastic support.

The plans of the progressives also include the publication of a daily newspaper in Manchester, the first issue of which is to appear on Oct. 1, and with which they hope to overcome the handicap of a press declared by them to be united in its opposition to their principles and their candidates.

Winston Churchill, who is called upon to lead the fight in the state campaign is no novice in politics. His first experience was in 1906, when he was the original progressive candidate for governor. In that campaign, which was conducted under the old convention system of nominations, he triumphed the state from one end to the other and forced the old liners to abandon their original program, the nomination of Charles H. Greenleaf of Franconia, and name Charles M. Floyd of Manchester after one of the most stormy conventions that the granite state had ever witnessed.

Churchill had introduced himself and his principles through "Coniston," a novel by his own pen, in which the alleged domination of the railroads and corporations over state legislation and politics was graphically portrayed through the character of the "Jethro Bass," a railroad lobbyist.

The fame of the book attracted hundreds to his rallies in spite of the fact that in most of the places where his meetings were held he found it impossible to enlist the services of any man bold enough to appear on the platform with him or to introduce him to his audiences.

The provisional committee in urging the candidacy for Mr. Churchill has this to say of the political situation that calls for a third party movement and nomination:

"Mr. Frank Worcester of Hollis became the unexpected candidate of the republican party at the suggestion of Senator Gallinger, the leader in New Hampshire, and a leader in the United States, of the 'invisible empire,' against which we are in open revolt. He addressed the announcement of his candidacy to National Committeeman Eschbrook, a representative of the same interests, who has openly stated that he would have refused to vote for Mr. Roosevelt as the regularly chosen nominee of the republican national convention.

In such an emergency the progressive party of New Hampshire is fortunate in being able to summon to the state a man of national reputation, of brilliant talents, of inspiring leadership; a man of unquestioned integrity and sincerity whose zeal and single-mindedness of purpose in the present great struggle will prove a tower of strength in the coming campaign. Winston Churchill is a soldier of the common good, who in 1906 enlisted not for a skirmish or a battle, but for a war, and under his inspiring leadership we may confidently hope that the really progressive forces of the state will rally to the new standard of the square deal for all, with special privileges to none.

"The time is ripe and rotten-ripe for change."

Entered Suit For $75,000 Against Harry L. Burrage of Newton Yesterday

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Claiming misrepresentation, Charles J. Glidden of this city brought suit for $75,000 in the Suffolk superior court yesterday against Harry L. Burrage of Newton. Mr. Glidden says Mr. Burrage induced him to purchase a large number of shares of stock in the Boston & Worcester Street Railway company upon the alleged misrepresentation that the company was about to be bought by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

He further alleges that Mr. Burrage promised to indemnify him for any losses on account of buying the stock in the event that the purchase by the New Haven was not carried out. He says the stock has depreciated.

NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

The Fall Term Will Open Sept. 11 and a Large Attendance is Expected at this Institution

The sisters of Notre Dame, who are in charge of the Notre Dame academy returned to their duties last evening and prepared for the reopening of the popular educational institution which will take place on Sept. 11.

The sisters, after the academy closed last June went to their summer home, the former Nance O'Neill estate, on the banks of the Merrimack river. They left Lowell on Wednesday, July 19 and during the past few months all have greatly enjoyed their rest. They left Tyngsboro on a special car at 5:15 o'clock last evening.

The superior expects that there will be a large increase in the number of pupils this year, and plans are completed for the reception of many of the students who are coming from distant places. The students who come from other cities and reside at the academy are expected to be here by Sept. 15, while the regular day pupils will not report until opening day, Sept. 11.

The regular fall term of St. Patrick's academy will start on Monday, Sept. 9 and the Xavier brothers who have charge of the school anticipate a large attendance. During the vacation season, many repairs were made at the school, and the building is now in perfect condition. The ground, superior to the school, will have several new additions this year, and he is confident that there will be a great increase in the attendance over former years, when the doors are thrown open Monday morning.

The sessions at all the other local parochial schools will open for the fall term on Monday morning, and in all large attendances are expected.

STATE MACHINE IS FOR FOSS

Chairman Riley to Take Field for the Governor—Action Taken at Yesterday's Meeting

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—The democratic state committee yesterday lined up with Governor Foss in his contest with Dist-Atty. Pelletier for the democratic nomination for governor when it approved the proposition made by Chairman Thomas P. Riley that he be allowed to participate as a speaker in the governor's campaign for re-nomination.

The committee was ready, so Chairman Riley stated last night, to go on record by a formal vote, but he prevented this being done because he was of opinion that "self-interested parties would distort any such action into evidence of attempted machine operation." He expressed himself as satisfied to meet and face the front of such criticism himself.

There was not a full membership present at the meeting yesterday and among the absentees was John M. McDonald, former chairman of the state committee, one of the chief Pelletier supporters. Every member present, Judge Riley announced, discussed the proposition and was in favor of it, declaring that in view of the chairman's judgment and the reasons he had given the committee, he had a full right and privilege to appear and speak at the Foss meetings and that the best interests of the party placed upon him the duty to do this.

In Both Capacities

The committeemen, said the chairman's announcement, expressed the belief that he not only had the right to appear in his individual capacity but that he had a right to appear in his official capacity.

Judge Riley told the committee that he was of the firm belief that democratic success not only in the state but as far as this state has a bearing upon it, in the nation, depended wholly upon the re-nomination of Governor Foss. He went into some of the reasons for his belief that Dist-Atty. Pelletier could not win if he was nominated and submitted the proposition that, while he should not inject party hackship into the organization meetings that are scheduled between now and the primaries he should be allowed, without criticism, to participate as a speaker in the rallies to be arranged by the Foss campaign committee.

This move was preliminary to the beginning of an energetic rally campaign to be begun in the interest of Gov. Foss next Monday and continued to the primaries. The governor has become convinced that aggressive work is needed on his part to offset the growth of Pelletier sentiment in various sections of the state. Yesterday he said he had not become a candidate for re-nomination for the sake of preventing a contest, but if anybody thought he could be driven out by a fight he would give a further exhibition of his own fighting powers.

Organizing Campaign

Headquarters have been engaged on the seventh floor of the building at 15 Beacon street, four flights above the headquarters of the democratic state committee, and a campaign committee has been organized to take charge of them.

Rallies will be held in every section of the state, and the plan is to have the governor make two speeches each evening between now and the primaries. He did not go to the Atlantic Deep Waterways convention in New London until 5 o'clock last night, in order that he might go to Lowell with Humphrey O'Sullivan and attend the meeting of the Martin Luther club in that city.

Gov. Foss told several democrats yesterday that he could see no reason for making any answer to Dist-Atty. Pelletier's inquiry as to whether he would support the choice of the primary. In the first place, the governor does not admit that he is in the running for more than 10 per cent. of the vote in the primary, and, in the second, he holds that he made himself clear at the outing at Canobie Lake last Saturday.

OLIVE OIL IN THE HOUSEHOLD

Next to bread, there is no one article of food which has so much value as olive oil. It is so easily digested that it can and should be used with nearly all our foods. Pompeian Olive Oil, from the finest groves in Italy, not chemically treated or adulterated in any way, has such a sweet, nutty taste that it improves the taste of foods and at the same time gives to the body health and strength.

Pompeian Olive Oil when mixed with the flour used in clam soup, cream of tomato, or other thick soups, imparts a most delicious flavor. In making fish entrees, or frying fish of any kind, use Pompeian Olive Oil instead of butter or lard, and the taste will be improved one hundred per cent. Sweet potato croquettes, cold slaw, macaroni and other dishes are likewise made tastier when this oil is used. By reason of its sweet, nutty flavor, it should be used in preference to any other kind for salad dressings, especially when fruit salads are served. In scrambling eggs, a little cream and olive oil put in the frying pan gives you a dish better than anything you ever tried before. Ask your dealer for a book of Pompeian recipes, and when once you try this oil in cooking, you will never do without it.

Pompeian Olive Oil is sold by drug-gists and grocers. Full one-half pint cans, 25 cents; full pint cans, 50 cents; full quart cans, 90 cents.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

The industrial school as well as all other public schools will open next Monday morning and Principal Deoley of the industrial school says that the number of applicants for admission to the industrial school this year is much larger than last year. This year, of course, there will be a second year class and next year a third year class. It will be rather difficult to find room for all of the pupils this year but Mr. Deoley allows that he can manage it somehow.

New machinery has been installed in the Old Bartlett school within the last week or two, including new wood working machinery. The industrial school proper will be divided into four parts and in the old Bartlett carpentry, cabinet making and drawing will be taught. The school is equipped with an up-to-date machine shop. In the main school there will be electrical work, auto repairing and the pupils there will also be taught mathematics and general academics. The Morrill school for girls will be run along the same lines as last year, except, of course, that there will be a second year class this year. The Old Moody school will open with the rest of the evening schools, probably the first Monday in October. The Old Moody school will be open evenings and Saturday afternoons.

JOHN REDMOND

The Irish Party Leader to Deliver Several Addresses in This Country Soon

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Plans for two big events in the program of the United Irish League—the biennial convention in Philadelphia, Sept. 23 to 26, and the visit of John Redmond, leader of the Irish forces in parliament, to Boston early in October—were under discussion last night at a meeting of the Boston central branch in the American house.

Mr. Redmond will come to America to attend the convention. He will have to return shortly afterward, so as to be on hand to lead the legislative battle in parliament. He will have time to deliver but four addresses, in Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and Boston. His Boston address will be made in Tremont Temple the evening of Oct. 2. National President Michael J. Ryan of the United Irish League will come from Philadelphia to speak at the same meeting.

At last night's meeting Christopher J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee on lodges for the biennial convention, reported on the design of the badge which will be obtained by delegates before going to Philadelphia. President Michael J. Jordan presided, with C. O'Connell Galvin as secretary.

Municipal Band Concert

The audience, though comparatively small, was widely thought that the municipal concert was a success. Last night was the most appreciative that has been to one of these concerts in some time.

The program was a well chosen and pleasing one, including several operatic selections and delightful medleys. It was as follows:

March, Officer of the Guard... Buglone Selection, Maritana... Wallace Grand medley, Superba... Dalby Operatic selection, Prince of Pilsen, Lullera Medley overture, Remick's Hits. Lullero

Gets Its First Well of High Gravity Oil

THE COMPANY HONESTLY AND CONSERVATIVELY
MANAGED IN THE INTEREST OF ITS STOCKHOLDERS

A Company With Proven Territory That Will Make Big Money for All Concerned

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000 PAR $1.00 EACH

Full paid and non-assessable. Incorporated under the laws of Arizona. Registered in the State of California.

Concord Petroleum Company's Well No. 1, Little Sespe District, Producing About 250 Barrels 33 Gravity Oil Daily

Since organization the Concord Petroleum Company has made wonderful progress. It has acquired eight hundred and twenty acres of proven oil land in the Little Sespe District, Ventura County, Cal.; has established its camp, consisting of five bunk houses, kitchen, storehouse and stable; built roads through the entire property and a water system connecting the camp with a natural spring. It has installed a standard drilling outfit, and after four and a half months of drilling has brought in its first well with a daily production, estimated at 250 barrels of 33 gravity oil.

THE DISTRICT

The Little Sespe District produces only high gravity oil. It is refined for gasoline, benzine, naphtha and various by-products. The rapid growth of the Automobile Industry and the resultant increase in the demand for gasoline has steadily brought up the price for this oil and refineries are now paying $1.25 per bbl. at the well. Experts say it will bring $1.50 or more per bbl. a year from now. There are more than thirty refineries in California actively bidding for this grade of oil and the Concord Petroleum Company could readily contract for the sale of its entire output, covering several years at a good figure.

The life of oil wells in this district is unknown. The oldest well, owned by the Union Oil Company has produced for 23 years and is still pumping.

The Concord property adjoins property of the Union Oil Company, that is paying dividends of sixty cents ($0.60) a share monthly and the stock is quoted at $100 a share. A few years ago the company's assets were given as $300,000. Today they are estimated at $100,000,000. Other companies operating near the Concord property are the Big Sespe Oil Company, Red Man Oil Company, White Rock Oil Company, Guffy & Galey, two of the largest independent oil operators, Whitelaw Oil Company and the Moody Gulch Oil Company.

The increasing activity in the district has had its effect on land values. Land that two years ago could be bought for $25.00 an acre is now eagerly snapped up at $500 to $1000 an acre. The Little Sespe District is well on its way toward becoming the most important high gravity oil field in the world.

FRANK FISCHER, General Contractor, New York City.

The stock now offered for $1.00 should be worth many times that amount when ten or more wells are producing. More than 200 wells can be drilled on this property and it is only a matter of getting the wells, to earn large dividends and cause substantial advances in the price of stock. One well like the first can earn six per cent. on the entire capitalization.

The allotment of stock for public subscription is limited and is made only for the purpose of continued development. As many more wells will be drilled without delay as sound financing will permit.

We recommend a purchase of Concord stock at the special price mentioned as a security having great profit-earning possibilities.

A limited block of this stock is open for public subscription at $1.00 a share.

If you have $50, $500 or $5000 this is your opportunity for an exceptional investment.

Philippe Breton Takes Great Pleasure in Taming His White Tumbler Pigeons
"No one has anything on me, when it comes to training birds," said young Philippe Breton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Breton of 29 Beaulieu street, when he exhibited to the writer a couple of white tumbler pigeons, which he held in his hands, and while he was talking the little fellow who was standing in the road opposite his house threw the birds in the air, but they quickly flew on his shoulders.

WHY WE ADVISE THE PURCHASE OF CONCORD STOCK

We recommend Concord:
Because it is a first-class investment.
Because it is in a field where every "Oil perfection" is to be found.
Because the property is proven oil land and surrounding companies are highly successful.
Because it is estimated that under every acre of California oil lands lie over five hundred thousand barrels of oil.
Because the Concord Company has successfully brought in its first well, producing 33 gravity oil, day and night.
Because this oil brings $1.25 per barrel at the well, and costs only 10 cents per barrel to produce.
Because Concord owns its land—$20 acres, and California oil land on which there is a producing well is worth at least $1000 an acre.

Because Concord is conservatively capitalized. The Directors are bankers and prominent business men who know how to successfully carry on an enterprise and who can be depended upon to conserve the interests of every stockholder.

Because now is the logical time to buy Concord stock as the company has already made arrangements for further drilling and when these are producing and the company placed on a dividend paying basis the stock must sell at a very much higher price.

LIGHT ON CAMPAIGN ISSUES

The democratic campaign text-book has been issued and is a very complete presentation of the issues and facts pertaining to the campaign. The national committee which issued this volume did the work quickly and well. This is the first text-book to appear. The republican party, we presume, will not have a text-book if indeed it be not too badly "broken up" to make an attempt. The book is a great repository of information on the tariff, and in fact on every other topic involved in the political contests of the hour.

The high cost of living is dealt with in an exhaustive manner, especially in regard to the effect of the tariff upon the prices of commodities used in the home. Dealing upon this subject there is an interesting presentation of the prices for which American products are sold abroad as compared with the price in this country. This alone is sufficient to show the inequity of the tariff as applied by the trusts and combines. Thus a machine's vice sells abroad for $7.70, here $9.35; plastering trowels, $6.84 per dozen, $9.00 in this country; knock-saw frames, $3.00 a dozen; here $4.20; building nails, $10 each, foreign; $22.50 domestic.

Hundreds of cases might be quoted with the foreign price ranging from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. less than the American price. The question arises: How can the highly protected manufacturer ship his products to foreign countries and sell them at 50 per cent. less than the American price? Is he selling his goods abroad at a loss or is he charging the American consumer exorbitant prices? The fact is clear that the American trusts being protected against foreign competition and having throttled domestic competition, can charge the utmost penny the consumer can pay. This explains why the cost of living is higher in this country than abroad; because the cost of what we buy is higher than abroad.

The remedy then is to reduce the tariff on such articles so as to bring in moderate competition. There should be no tariff on the necessities of life of which there is a scarcity in this country. This applies to beef, sugar, potatoes and various other commodities that now sell at abnormal prices. Take for example the simple wash fabric dress requiring 11 yards. The cost of manufacture in the United States is $1.06 and in England $1.11. The eleven yards retail in England for $1.87 and in the United States for $2.75. This price is imposed and made possible by the Payne-Adams law. Under the Dingley law the tax was but 45 cents, while under the present law, according to these figures, it is 66 cents.

The average ad valorem duty upon imports last year was 42 per cent., while 21 per cent. or half this duty would serve all purposes. Yet, if the price of the goods so protected be increased but one-third of this rate or 14 per cent., the tariff tax on manufactured goods alone would be $1,800,000,000 at wholesale. This rate of 14 per cent. does not cover half the difference between the cost of living in England and this country. The tariff extortions clearly total more than $100 a year per family on manufactured goods. Special instances of the tariff extortion might be cited to emphasize the injustice done the consumer.

THE I. W. W. STRIKE ILLEGAL

The Sun yesterday devoted considerable space to the I. W. W. strike in the Appleton mills, not on account of its importance, but for the reason that it makes an appeal to the mill management, which if complied with, would destroy the liberty of the mill worker, restore the obnoxious custom that once prevailed and under which the operative had to yield slavish submission to his boss. That day is gone by and we must protest against the I. W. W. or any other body trying to restore it.

These operatives now on strike at the Appleton mills make the ridiculous demand that the management either discharge certain other operatives, or compel them to join the I. W. W. As well might they ask that the mill management buy off the ears of every operative who does not see fit to join the I. W. W. It would be just as legal to do that as to curtail a man's inalienable right to work for a living and to be free to join or not to join the I. W. W. or any other organization. The mill operative is no longer the slave of the mill boss and it is just as well for the I. W. W. to understand that they cannot make him a slave.

Does it not seem absurd that an organization claiming to work for the uplift of the operative, would favor a policy that would subject them to the very worst form of tyranny. We would respectfully inform the I. W. W. that they are on the wrong track this time and that they are liable to prosecution on the ground of conspiracy if they persist in their course. Here is a law recently enacted to apply to such a case:

Sections 18 and 19, chapter 541, acts of 1909, read as follows:

Section 18. No person shall be intimidated or coerced, prevent or seek to prevent a person from entering into or continuing in the employment of any person or corporation.

Section 19. No person shall, himself or by his agent, coerce or attempt to coerce, into a violation of any law or agreement not to join or become a member of a labor organization on a condition of his securing employment or continuing in the employment of such person.

Do the mill operatives of Lowell want to return to the conditions that once prevailed in some places where they were obliged to vote as the bosses directed? Often has the press denounced the mill bosses for attempting to dictate how their employees should vote. At present, we believe, there is not a boss in any of the mills, who would attempt to interfere with his help in this respect; but along comes a new organization, the I. W. W., and would have the bosses to assume the role of tyrants and to compel their operatives to join the I. W. W. or otherwise lose their employment.

The city of Lawrence after its industries had been paralyzed by the great labor riot, was treated to another strike by a branch of the I. W. W., who left because the other operatives in the same mill with them refused to join their organization. This strike failed, as it should, because it failed to depend upon the power of the personal liberty guaranteed them by the constitution of the United States.

WHAT DETESTED CHAMP CLARK

Appeared at the trial of Champ Clark at Canobie Lake, the Johnston Democrat has the following to say:

Clark, who was a member of the Massachusetts at their outbreak at Canobie Lake, N. H., the other day that he believed now and would have been a member of the Massachusetts at the democratic nomination for president in 1908. Clark was elected to the two-thirds rule Wilson and Clark. He was not elected, and I never believed a democratic ticket could ever win. He said, still it was not the two-thirds rule which did the business for Mr. Clark. It was his alliance with Mr. Bryan, Mr. Wilson, Taft and the Bryan-Belmont combination. He could never have secured such a majority in this convention had it been known in advance that he was going to tie up with the reactionaries.

We do not agree with the Democrat that Mr. Clark tied up with the reactionaries, such as Bryan and Belmont. We believe that they supported him in preference to Wilson without any solicitation on his part. When a man is up as a candidate for office he cannot very well select his supporters unless he has more than enough to elect. The concession to Mr. Bryan to prevent him holding to run with Roosevelt was also a factor.

The Boston hotel workers, who have secured a 33 1/3 per cent. increase, should now be able to get along without tips. That hotel should advertise as a no-tip hotel and make a rule that any waiter found accepting a tip will be discharged.

The Greenidge school is badly in need of more room. The tax-payers are entitled to adequate school accommodation, because when the building is crowded the ventilation is usually bad and consequently the health of the children is imperiled.

Seen and Heard

We have been asked many times how that district in Braintree known as Navy Yard received its name, and so far as we can learn this is how it happened:

Many years ago a great amount of ship timber was rafted and floated down Merrimack river to Newburyport from the various towns in this vicinity. Beaver brook being a convenient place in which to arrange the timber into rafts, it was cut and drawn upon sleds in winter time and left near the brook, just below where the mills now stand. All the vacant land in the vicinity was thus covered over with oak timber, to be used in building ships. The person from whom this information is derived says: "So much ship timber gave the place the appearance of a navy yard." Hence the name.

Do you know what a real "knocker" is and the position he holds in the estimation of the general far-seeing public? If not, the following may hold interest for you for it is the most adequate and comprehensive description of one of those notorious public nuisances that has ever come to my notice. Just glance it over that you may recognize the next member of this detested species that you chance to meet. I believe that the writer of this little piece omitted not the slightest thing that might serve to make one who is given to using the "hammer" too ardently, universally unpopular. Here it is:

"A knocker is a mossbacked, swivel-headed, peevish, selfish suspicious, whining, hesitating, near-sighted fellow. His eye has a fondness for scowls and skeletons; his ears seem to itch for grunts, groans and shrieks of distress. His voice seems a strange combination of the squeal of a pig, the bray of a donkey, and the growl of an old coffee mill.

"A knocker is worse than a wart on the public nose. He is a cancerous growth upon the face of social beauty. He is the tuberculosis of life. He is a creek in the neck, a catch in the back, the string-halted, balky horse in the team; a brake upon the wagon bound up hill; the leak in the steam chest of the engine; the short circuit of the electric battery; the discordant note in music. Men will shun him as a serpent, and despise him as a howling coyote, a skunk or a peasant. Don't knock him!"

THE CHOIR INVISIBLE

O, may I join the choir invisible! Of these immortal dead who live again In minds made better by their presence; Live—

In pulses stirred to generosity, In deeds of daring nobility, In scorn Of miserable aims that end with self, In thoughts sublime that pierce the night like stars, And with their mild persistence urge man's search To vaster issues.

To make undying music in the world, Breathing an beautiful order that controls With growing sway the growing life of man.

So we inherit that sweet purity For which we struggled, failed and agonized With widening retrospect that broods Despair, Rebellious flesh that would not be subdued, A vicious parent shaming still its child, Poor, anxious penitence is quick dissolved;

Its discords quenched by meeting harmonies, Die in the large and charitable air; And all our rarer, better, truer, self, That sobbed religiously in yearning song, That watched to ease the burden of the world, Laboriously tracing what must be, And what may yet be better—saw within

A worthier image for the sanctuary And shaped it forth before the multitude, Divinely human raising worship so To higher reverence more fixed with love— That better self shall live till human Time Shall fold its eyelids, and the human sky Be gathered like a scroll within the tomb, Unread forever.

This is life to come, Which martyred men have made more glorious For us who strive to follow. May I reach That better heaven, be to other souls The cap of strength in some great agony, Enkindle generous ardor, feed pure love, Regret the smiles that have no cruelty, Be the sweet presence of a good diffused, And in diffusion ever more intense! So shall I join the choir invisible, Whose music is the gladness of the world.

—George Eliot.

Jeremy Sanderson, the sociologist of Duluth, was condemning the International marriage that gives an American girl's beauty and millions to some elderly and wither "millionaire."

"These 'millionaire' and foreign husbands that hitch our girls," said Mr. Sanderson, bitterly, "are well off—well off, I mean, in the Calhoun use of the term."

"Clay Calhoun, testifying in an assault case, spoke of one Washington White as 'well off.'"

"Now, witness," said the cross-examining lawyer, "when you declare White to be well off, what do you mean? Is he worth $10,000?"

"No, sir," said Calhoun, "he is worth $5000."

"No, sir," said the lawyer, "he is worth $1000."

"No, sir," said Calhoun, "he is worth $500."

"Then how is he well off?"

"Because, sir, his wife and I are a No. 1 wealthy and happy family in hang-up style."

THE DOCTOR

How sweet his bedside when the day is done, And cares have vanished with the setting sun!

Evening at last his hour of respite brings, And on his couch his weary length he flings.

Soft be thy pillow, servant of mankind, Lulled by an opiate, art could never find.

Sweet be thy slumber, though hast earned it well— Pleasant thy dreams! Clang! goes the midnight bell!

Darkness and storm! The home is far away, That waits his coming ere the break of day!

The snow-chad pines their wintry plumbage toss— Dauntful the frozen stream his road

Deep lie the drifts, the slanted heaps have shut The hardy woodman in his mountain hut.

Why should thy softer frame the tempest braves? Hast thou no life, no health, to lose or save?

Look! read the answer in his patient eyes— For him no other voice when suffering

Deaf to the gale that all around him blows, A feeble whisper calls him,—and he goes.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House
The Newport, R. I., Herald of Sept. 4 says of "Alma," which comes to the Opera House tomorrow, matinee and night: "There is not a great deal to 'Alma,' which was presented at the Opera House last evening, but some bright, pretty music, and as this was well rendered there was some good to the show. The piece is styled a French vaudeville and is adopted by Paul Hervey with music by Jean Brigue. As it is French it is at times quite daring in its method, especially at the close of the second act, when Alma partially dresses, 'here Alma' will sing, soon relieves the situation. The piece is well staged, the two settings being attractive and quite complete. May Leatham as Alma sang well and acted with considerable vivacity. John Saunders did the part of the excellent court jester. But when Primrose and Dockstader's Greater Minstrels are seen at the Opera House on Tuesday night, Sept. 10, they will ing and careful a presentation of this big hit as was in evidence the first week it was given.

PRIMROSE AND DOCKSTADER'S GREATER MINSTRELS

The costume of a minstrel does not admit of much originality or change. It is dressed in the style of the money of the ancient court jester. But when Primrose and Dockstader's Greater Minstrels are seen at the Opera House on Tuesday night, Sept. 10, they will

THE PINK LADY

There never was a musical comedy production brought forth with the care and attention to detail that was lavished upon "The Pink Lady," and its sensational success, both abroad and in America is the best proof that this watchword pays. After months of unusually careful preparation, "The Pink Lady" was submitted to the public approval. It leaped into instant fame and for over 10 weeks ran along at the New Amsterdam theatre without a sign of slackening interest in the big production. Ordinarily a piece of such popular appeal is allowed to drift along on its merits, but not with "The Pink Lady." The London season after its successful run of a year here witnessed just as painstaking be resplendent in the most approved minstrel designs made especially for the occasion. The settings, and particularly that of the opening and the plantation days scenes, will be novel as well as rich and elaborate. Everything about this minstrel production has been made especially under the direction of Mr. Primrose and Mr. Dockstader, and will be a worthy setting for the reunion of these two old-time favorites.

ALICE LLOYD
Alice Lloyd, whose remarkable trip across America last year as the star of the joyous musical glee, "Little Miss Fix-it," made it evident that she could fascinate theatregoers on this side of the sea with her song, her dance, and her sweet voice as she had in England, will pay her first visit as a star to this city on Sept. 11. "Little Miss Fix-it" is presented by W. J. and L. E. Fisher, who are the sponsors for those famous successes, "The Spring Maid" and "The Rose Maid." The organization presented "Little Miss Fix-it" is the same that was so greatly praised during the long season last year, and Miss Lloyd is announced to sing the famous songs which made her famous, and also take part in the lively whirl of "The Texas Tommy," the music of which resounded across the continent from Savannah to San Francisco in record-making time.

The Playhouse
J. Anthony Sullivan, leading man for The Playhouse, the organization which is to open a season's organization at The Playhouse (formerly the Hathaway theatre), under the personal guidance of Kewell Watson, is an actor of more than ordinary experience, despite the fact that he is still young in years. Mr. Sullivan was born
